ONE OF THE MEITHS ACQUITTED BUT ANOTHER PLEADS GUILTY.

A Detective Deputy and how he surrounded his Victims.

After being yesterday afternoon, the court continued the case of George Meith, the defendant being called to the witness chair. He told a straight story, how his brother Fred gave him a receipt, a dollar and four quarters and directed him to go to the village and purchase some ingre-

The Methodist.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE DISTRICT CONVENTION AND THE Y. P. & C. E. CONVENTION.

Auburn rain and cloud has not quenched Methodist fire and spirit. The beautiful chapel of the First M. E. church was well occupied Monday evening to open the thirtieth session of the Auburn District Convention. Ministers and laymen from various parts of Cayuga and Wayne counties were in attendance.

THE OWASCO INN.

FORMALLY OPENED TO THE PUBLIC LAST EVENING.

A Scene of Brilliance, Music, Feasting and General Festivity. LANDLORD CRESMAN'S VENTURE STARTS OFF MOST AUSPICIOUSLY. The new Owasco Inn in Dill street, was formally opened to the public last night. It is the coolest and brightest hotel in the city and it opened under the best auspices.

Bill at It.

DISCUSSING THE PRAYER AT THE OPERA HOUSE OPENING.

In all this discussion about opening the opera house with prayer, I don't think the real point at issue has been reached in any of the communications submitted to the public. Dr. Brainerd, equally for the $5 and the $5 cent seats, asked: "Lead us into temptation" and it strikes me that in the light of recent developments the Four Hundred needed that application.

COBPOBAL TANNER.

HE WRITES A LONG LETTER TO THE COMRADES OF SEWARD POST.

Defending His Course of Action While Commissioner of Pensions. RETIRING THE POSITION FORMERLY TAKEN BY HIM AND PRESENTING SOME NEW ONES. At the time when Corporal Tanner was forced to resign as Commissioner of Pensions, his friends in Seward post secured the passage of resolutions which must have been a consolation to the legions.

CENTRAL HUDSON RAILROAD MEN HAVE THEM TO COMPLAIN OF.

Hours of Working for Which They Receive no Pay. SYRACUSE, Nov. 20.—There was considerable excitement in railroad circles last night over the news of an imminent strike by the freight conductors, engineers, trackmen and firemen on the Eastern division of the New York Central.

John G. Cowie, who was next called and was the chief clerk of the U. S. secret service department and his business was to examine counterfeit money. The coins found at the Meiths house were not finished and were of a very crude make.

Frederick W. Gardner said he was a druggist and that George Meith came to his store to purchase a bottle of acid and plates of zinc. He offered an silver dollar which was counterfeit and which he refused to take.

Fred Meith, the brother, was then called and testified as follows: I made the molds and counterfeit coins and I told my brother to go to the village and get me drugs and plates of zinc which he did. I gave him a counterfeit dollar and four silver quarters with which to pay for them if the druggist refused the dollar.

The case of John Meith was then called and the jury returned a verdict of guilty. The evidence introduced was substantially the same as that in George's case and the witnesses were the same.

When the name of Josiah Emory was called, a ripple of laughter moved over the house as an eccentric gentleman took the stand. Mr. Emory evidently thought it would be a good idea to catch a hand of cards and play a few hands.

The first business done in United States court this morning was the hearing of a motion by U. S. Commissioner Mead of Albany for adjournment of an argument for dockets fees. The motion was granted.
