BULLET IN BREAST.

Attempted Suicide by Revolver Route After Drinking Heavily.

Eugene V. Burgess, who resides at the corner of Orchard and Jefferson streets, lies in the City hospital in a precarious condition as the result of a self-inflicted revolver wound which was made early Saturday evening, when Burgess tried to end his life with a .32 calibre revolver. Burgess had been drinking for two days prior to the shooting and his wife said that she knew of no other reason for the attempted suicide. Mrs. Burgess was at home when the attempt was made. Burgess went to a sleeping room on the second floor about 6 o'clock, and taking the revolver pointed it at his heart and fired. The crack of the report drew Mrs. Burgess's attention to find him with blood streaming from the wound. A hurry call was sent for Dr. S. W. Day and he did what he could for the wounded man. The police office was also notified and Officers Keegan and Parker were sent to the home. Mrs. Burgess told the officers that her husband had been drinking heavily for two days and that she knew of no other reason for his rash act.

Burgess was removed to the hospital shortly after 8 o'clock and was attended there by Dr. Voorhees. It was stated at the hospital this morning that Burgess was a little easier, but the bullet had not yet been located, the attending physician not deeming it advisable to do this in Burgess's present condition.

Boycott on Owaseo.

A tale has leaked out recently which shows how the local automobilists feel about their treatment at the hands of the Owaseo authorities. It is said that the bubble men have an understanding among themselves that they will not purchase anything from a resident of Owaseo, even going so far as to ask produce vendors where they are from. If the answer is from Owaseo Mr. Auto-owner does not buy from him. In this way they are trying to get even for injuries which they believe themselves to have received at the hands of the Owaseoans.

OBITUARY.

Another Former Auburn Clergyman and G. A. R. Man Passes Away—Other Deaths.

Rev. Henry C. Moyer, for many years pastor of the Wall Street M. E. church of this city, died Thursday, September 22, at Williamsport, Pa., in the 72nd year of his age. His funeral was held at Moravia, N. Y., this morning. Rev. Mr. Moyer is well remembered by the people of Auburn, as well as in other localities where he has lived and worked. His strength of character and his kind and sympathetic ways made him friends with everyone. He was not only a soldier of the cross, but also a soldier in the spring of 1861 for 18 months in the 47th Pennsylvania infantry. Later he was in the 37th Pennsylvania volunteers. He was a member of the G. A. R. and in October, 1898, took a transfer card from the post at Auburn and united with Vashburgh post at Newark, N. Y., but afterward was transferred to the Auburn post.

He had filled many pastorates in this state and Pennsylvania, notably at Watkins, Palmyra, Moravia, Newark and Auburn in New York state, and Mansfield and Troy in Pennsylvania. For 32 years he was a member of the Central New York conference. He is survived by his wife and a son and daughter. The son, a resident of Seneca Falls, and the latter for many years a foreign missionary, is now home, Sunday evening. Rev. Arthur Copeland, D. D., of the Methodist church at Newark, will deliver a memorial sermon on Rev. Mr. Moyer, and the G. A. R. post will attend in a body.

Seward-Crocker post, G. A. R., of Auburn, sent a floral offering this morning, and Senior Vice Commander J. H. Cady and many of the comrades from Auburn, together with a number of Mr. Moyer's former congregation of the Wall Street church, went to Moravia this morning to attend the funeral.

Moravia, Sept. 28.—The funeral of Rev. H. C. Moyer, who died in Williamsport, Pa., was held today in Moravia. The services were in charge of Rev. W. H. Giles, the district superintendent, and the other ministers who took part in the service were Rev. Cordello Herrick and Rev. Theron Cooper of Auburn, Rev. Arthur Copeland of Newark, Rev. V. S. Britten of Cortland, Rev. C. E. Jewell and Rev. Mr. Connell of Manlius, Comrade J. H. Cady of Auburn represented Seward-Crocker post. The interment was in Indian Mound cemetery.

Pioneer Merchant Dead.

William R. Lathrop died Thursday, September 24, at Seneca Falls, at the advanced age of 92 years. He is the last of the pioneer merchants of that town. In 1837, when he was 21 years of age, he engaged in business with his uncle, Ernest Partridge. For many years he conducted a branch store for the firm at Montezuma and afterward succeeded Mr. Partridge in the store at Seneca Falls. In 1864, Mr. Lathrop retired, leaving his business to his son, R. P. Lathrop. William B. Lathrop was born in Homer, Cortland county, in 1817, and was the oldest of a family of 16 children. His early life was spent in Cortland county and in Lockport. While engaged in business in Montezuma, Mr. Lathrop married Miss Harriette Elizabeth Palmer of Cayuga county. She died in 1884. Their only daughter, Miss Harriette Utley, died in 1904, and an only son, Romayne P. Lathrop, survives.

Cayuga's Equalized Value.

The state equalization board at its recent session in Albany, completed the tabulation of the equalized value of the real estate and personal property in Cayuga county as follows: Real estate, $38,867,807, real and personal, $40,593,354.

Sounds Startling!

Commissioner T. M. Osborne of the Public Service commission, Alderman C. J. Holihan, Charles F. Battigan and P. T. Quigley drove to Cortland Saturday in Mr. Osborne's "Green Dragon," which he has made famous in a book of the same name. It was given out before the start was made that there wasn't any political significance in the trip, but there were those who hinted that Mr. Osborne might be the Democratic candidate for senator after all.

Rich in Rochester.

Justice A. P. Rich will preside at trial and special term of Supreme court at Rochester next week, taking the place of Justice Foster. The Auburn justice will hold court for a week when Justice Foster will take his place. Justice Peter A. Hendrick of New York, formerly of Auburn, is also expected to hold court at the same time so that there will be two parts to the trial term there.

Country Club's Annual.

The annual meeting for the members of the Owaseo Country club was held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Joseph C. Anderson opened the meeting by reading the president's report after which W. P. Beardsley read the report of the treasurer. It was found that they had more money in the bank this year than they had last season, at which there was great rejoicing. The election of officers was the next feature of the meeting. All the former office-holders were re-elected to their respective positions as follows: J. C. Anderson, president; General MacDougall, vice president; and W. P. Beardsley, treasurer. As Charles Avery is abroad this year his twin brother, Carrington Avery was chosen to fill the vacancy as secretary. An amendment was passed in regard to raising the dues but no final action could be taken upon it until it had been posted three weeks. A meeting will probably be called three weeks from last Saturday, Oct. 17, to settle this matter of increasing the dues.

CHAPTER OF FIRES.

Large One in Meridian—Dwelling Burned on Owaseo Shore—Others.

Meridian, Sept. 28.—Fire of unknown origin did $3,000 worth of damage on the L. VanDorn farm, one and one-half miles south of here, last night, totally destroying the large grain barn and sheds, together with the contents. This included 100 tons of baled hay of last year's crop, all of this year's crop of corn and grain, with tools, wagons, three horses and 10 hogs. But for the hard work on the part of the people of the countryside who were called on for help, it is likely that the house adjoining the barn would have been destroyed.

The origin is a matter of speculation and eliminating all other possible means it seems that it must have been started by someone either by intent or through oversight. Work about the farm yesterday evening, done early and late, VanDorn said that there had not been a lantern in the barn since Saturday. When the fire was discovered it had started that could not be beaten down. It was about 11:30 when the discovery of the fire was made. At that time the entire upper portion of the barn seemed to be in flames. The alarm was quickly sounded and Mr. VanDorn with members of the family and the nearby neighbors rushed to the burning building to get out the livestock and hay that they could. There was little chance of saving anything as the contents of the building, outside of those that had life in them. There were seven horses in the barn on the main floor and four of these were taken out. The fire was not so fierce at that time in the portion occupied by the horses and for this reason the rescuers were able to get them out. Nineteen hogs also perished while a few tools and some of the vehicles were taken out before the fire had taken complete hold of the building.

The hay took up the biggest part of the barn, the crop of last year amounting to 100 tons and this year's crop of about the same size being stored in the barn from the roof to the main floor. This was as tinder and the barn itself from the long continued drought was almost as inflammable as the hay. When the fire was discovered it had gained a hold all across the top of the structure and it continued to burn fiercely and rapidly, consuming everything that was not immediately removed beyond its reach. The top portion of the barn was quickly reached in the fire eating it was down and taking in the lower part of the structure. The barn itself was attached to a long shed, and this followed the way of the barn. When the wooden portions of the building had been burned, the tons of hay, closely pressed, furnished more material for flames, but the fire did not eat through them as rapidly as it did through the wood and when some of the volunteer firemen reached the farm the hay was glowing mass. A large mass of flames, clover hay that had been cut for seed, added the bars at one corner and this was quickly consumed. This stock represented the crop from 16 acres and was as fine a lot of clover hay as has been cut in that end of the county this year.

The alarm was sent over the telephone wires and there were about 150 or 200 people assembled at the VanDorn place within a short time after the fire had been discovered. Many of them had buckets, the volunteers with them and many sap buckets from the neighborhood being brought into use. Nothing, of course, could be done toward staying the march of the flames in the barns and sheds, but the brick house which was a little to the west and a trifle south of the barn, was threatened several times. Wet blankets were hung over the shed and the blankets were kept saturated with water taken from Cross lake. Several times, in spite of the work of the volunteers, the contents on the dwelling became so hot and the woodwork was blistered but renewed activity kept the flames from getting started. The wind also was in a favorable direction.

The fire started creeping in the dried grass several times and the bucket brigade was kept at work putting this out. Mr. VanDorn's hay was insured for $750 and he also had insurance on some of the other contents and was a member of the Cayuga County Farmers' Co-operative company. The grain went with the hay.

Burned on the Lakeshore.

Fire destroyed the house occupied by James Wilson on the lake shore in Fleming, Saturday night. The house was burned to the ground. The family was absent at the time, but a few articles of furniture were saved by the neighbors who made all haste to get to the house when the flames were discovered. $200, which constituted Mr. Wilson's summer's earnings was found safe in a drawer of a bureau that was carried out of the fire. The house was insured by its owner, Thomas McDowell and Wilson's furniture was also covered. The fire is supposed to have caught from the kitchen chimney. The house was situated just in the rear of Beck's point, Owaseo lake, and was the second house north of the Four Mile house. Saturday night Mr. Wilson and his wife and son locked up the house and drove to Auburn. Shortly before 8 o'clock, H. Ferguson, Arthur Gilbert and Walter Beck, who were fishing on the bar off Beck's point saw the light of a brick fire over the tree tops on shore and called an alarm to Robert Hall who was at his summer cottage on the point. Mr. Hall immediately started for the fire followed by the fishermen as soon as they could get ashore. Mr. Hall found the upper part of the house in flames. There was no way of saving the house, but Hall, Ferguson, Gilbert and Beck dragged out what furniture they could before the roof of the house fell in. When Mr. Wilson and his family returned from Auburn they found their house in ashes. Mr. Wilson's first thought was for the sum of money which he imagined was locked in the drawer of a sewing machine which was destroyed, but the money was found hidden in the drawer of a bureau which the fishermen had pulled out of the house just as the roof fell in. The Wilsons were given a temporary home by Mr. Walters who resides in the Owaseo farm-house on the Beck Point farm.

DELEGATES ARE DEADLOCKED.

E. H. Thomson of Auburn, and J. E. H. Mongin of Seneca Tied for Chairman.

Cortland, Sept. 28.—(Special)—Delegates to the Senatorial convention gathered here today to nominate a candidate for Senator from the Fortieth district, to succeed Senator B. M. Wilcox, became deadlocked on the question of a permanent chairman, and with E. H. Thomson of Cayuga, tied with J. E. H. Mongin of Seneca, the convention at 2:45 adjourned until this afternoon at 4 o'clock, a committee in the meantime being named to see if some agreement could not be reached as to the convention's organization. This committee is composed of E. H. Thomson and A. B. Hallett of Cayuga, Duncan McArthur of Seneca, and Clayton R. Lusk of Cortland.

It came to light during the caucusing that Seneca and Cortland counties had signed an agreement to stand together. While this is true as to the delegates, it is not true of the people at large, and a canvass of some of the prominent citizens of Cortland by an Advertiser reporter brought out the fact that there was a general and strong sentiment in favor of Cortland county uniting with Cayuga for the re-nomination of Senator Wilcox.

The convention was called to order this afternoon at 2:25 in the Republican headquarters in the Hotel York by C. R. Lusk, chairman of the Cortland county delegation. He placed in nomination the name of J. E. H. Mongin of Seneca county for permanent chairman, and for one vote was taken, A. B. Hallett of Westport, presented the name of E. H. Thomson of Cayuga county, as the candidate for permanent chairman. George W. Benham of Auburn, a member of the Cayuga county delegation asked that the vote for chairman be made on a call of the roll. Mr. Mongin was on his feet immediately with an amendment that the chairman of the Seneca county delegation be permitted to call the unit vote for the delegates from that county and that the same procedure be taken with respect to the other counties.

F. A. Weddigen of Throop, objected to this in a strenuous manner. He said that it was contrary to the procedure of Republican primaries, that the unit rule in the Republican party had been abolished since 1880, and he insisted that the roll call of the delegates be taken that each delegate might express his own opinion and that the makeup of the committee might be learned.

Chairman Lusk declared that Cortland county had elected seven delegates but that by the ruling of the state committee it had been allowed but six. The seven delegates were present in the convention and he said that these delegates would cast their six votes as a unit. Mr. Weddigen again made an objection to this procedure. He insisted that there be a call of the roll that the convention's membership might be known and that each delegate might personally express his preference.

The vote was then taken Mr. Mongin voting for the Seneca county delegation and Chairman Lusk casting the vote under the unit rule. Both of these votes were cast for Mr. Mongin. The Cayuga county delegation voted on a roll call and 12 votes were registered as cast for E. H. Thomson. This left the two candidates tied. Chairman Lusk declared that 24 votes had been cast, 12 of which were for Mr. Mongin and 12 for Mr. Thomson, the result.

George W. Benham of Auburn said that the fact that the Cayuga county delegates had voted as they did was no reflection on Mr. Mongin's ability to preside at any convention, but the question was of procedure, that as the Cayuga county senatorial committee had not been consulted till a short time before the opening of the convention, there was no other course to pursue but to do as they had done and vote by the roll call for Mr. Thomson. He suggested that the senatorial committee of the district get together and see if an agreement could not be made by which a chairman would be selected and the general procedure of the convention be outlined.

Mr. Mongin said that that would be all right, but that Cayuga county had insisted on two members on the senatorial district committee, while the other counties had had only one each, and he could see no use of a conference with the committee membership as it was.

Chairman Lusk held with Mr. Mongin and said that in his opinion a conference would be futile after which the delegates went into an informal conference among themselves.

George W. Benham said during the discussion that the state committee which was the highest authority that could be asked for has decided that Cayuga county was entitled to two members on the senatorial committee and that the county would insist on this membership as long as the 12 members of the Cayuga delegation be held together. Those who know the delegation say they know how long this will be.

After some further talk, a special committee was named with the view of having a conference and reporting to the delegates an organization, including chairman and other officers. This committee is composed of E. H. Thomson and A. B. Hallett of Cayuga county, Duncan McArthur of Seneca and Clayton R. Lusk of Cortland. After the committee had been named an adjournment was taken until 4 o'clock.

The Cayugas at the convention include: Senator B. M. Wilcox, County Clerk C. J. Warme, Warden George W. Benham, E. H. Thomson, George W. Penrod, City Clerk Joseph S. Hanlon, Special County Judge Danforth R. Clark, George B. Turner, J. Lewis Grant, William I. Donnell, Frank S. Coburn, James Richards, J. Sargent, Jesse D. Ferris, Frank A. Weddigen of Throop; Wallace Hadden of Throop; Supervisor Michael Cullen of Aurelius; William Flits of Moravia; Supervisor A. C. McIntosh, William Wilcox and Charles J. Hewitt all of Locke; John M. Monroe of Port Byron; A. B. Hallett of Westport; Supervisor Bert Pooler of Cato, and Irving Stillman of Sterling.
