

BIG DAY AT GENEVA

Many Auburnians Took Part in Centennial Celebration.

BULL TEAM LOST TWICE

And Wheelers Had Time of Their Lives at Entertainment and Parade.

One of the most pleasant exchange! of courtesies that has taken place in many years in local National Guard circles took place yesterday when the Second Separate company went to the Geneva centennial parade and ; celebration as the guests of the Thirty-fourth Separate company of that city.

In charge of Captain K. 8. Jennings the company, 75 strong, marched from the State street armory in fatigue uniforms and left for Geneva at 8 1/2. At Geneva they were quartered in horse next to the armory, and had luncheon and supper at the bitter place. The ladies of Geneva had prepared a most elaborate menu for the visiting, guardsmen and this feature of the day's entertainment was one of the many pleasant things that marked the visit.

Marching is a great appetizer, and it rarely happens that masses of hungry soldiers can be satisfactorily fed. The Wheelers, however, are especially emphatic in their praise of the commissary department of the Geneva company, temporarily managed by the ladies. After luncheon the company was reinforced by a dozen other members who came over on the 11 o'clock train, and after changing from fatigue to full dress uniform with helmets they formed at 1:30 o'clock for the parade. By courtesy of the Geneva company the Wheelers marched at the head of the National guard contingent. The parade was the most elaborate ever held in Geneva and numbered several thousand in line. At the head came the marshals and the officers of the National guard. Lieutenant George H. Leonard of the Third Battalion staff was an aide on Major Wilson's staff. Following these came the Naval Reserves headed by the Fifty-fourth Regiment band of Rochester. The Second Separate company was next, and followed by the Thirty-fourth Separate company of Geneva, and the First and Eighth Separate companies of Rochester. The Fire department, fraternal and civic organizations, floats representing local industries, and civilians in carriages made up the rest of the line. The march extended over five miles and every street was in scrupulously clean order. At the end of the parade all five bands present—the famous Ithaca band, the Fifty-fourth regiment band of Rochester, the Auburn City band, the L-sons band, and the Onondaga Indian band in full war paint and togetery—massed together as one band and marched down the main thoroughfare followed by the military in close formation 32 abreast.

The bands played Onward Christian Soldiers as they passed in review and the mass of music, colors, and men formed a most inspiring spectacle and will long be remembered by those present.

At the close all disbanded and the Wheelers visited the Midway and other attractions, many going to the ball grounds to get a line on Auburn's Knickerbocker team in its ante-season games with the Geneva team. This was disappointing to the Auburn fans but would have been doubly so to the home team had the scores been any other. Manager W. A. Hoagland is only trying out his large squad, and has not yet been able to get hold of the pitchers he is after. The morning game was attended by about 400 spectators and proved an easy victory for the Genevans, who won by a score of 11 to 4. Score:

Genev ... 0 2 1 n n n i j 7 -11 ... Auburn ... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 ... Batteries—Landolf and Milley; Kalbo and Henderson.

The afternoon game was largely attended and in spite of many changes the Auburn team was defeated again, by a score of 8 to 4. By innings: Geneva 3 0 1 0 1 n 1 0 .. Auburn 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 .. Batteries—Marry, Kilinger and Orugion; Mithloon, Hardy 11ml HoulorHm.

At 8 o'clock the Wheelers formed at the Geneva armory and returned to this city on the 9:10 train.

Many Went. Ticket Agent Hazen reports, that tie sold nearly 500 tickets from here to Geneva yesterday and the sale today has been very large.

MANY OUT OF SCHOOL.

But No Cause of Alarm Yet Bays Doctor Brown. Health Officer Dr. A. H. Brown has written a letter to parents whose children attended the Failey obsequies on Wednesday, urging them to immunize their children until further notice from the Board of Health. A sort of unnecessary hysteria prevails since the discovery of diphtheria in the afflicted family, he says. The establishment of a quarantine was done simply as a precautionary measure and does not indicate a general prevalence of the malady. In all between 40 and 50 children and four teachers from Genesee street school are temporarily restrained from attendance. The school, however, continues to remain open, the places of the absent teachers being temporarily held by candidates from the Board of Education's training class.

The condition of the three Failey children ill with diphtheria at their home No. 6 Baker avenue, was reported much improved this afternoon by Dr. S. W. Day, and hopes are entertained for their early recovery.

ALL HOTELS O. K.

Auburn Bonifaces Will Get Licenses as 1'sual.

County Treasurer Loughborough has issued liquor tax certificates to all of the hotel proprietors of the city who made application on April 15, as required by the excise law. The hotels were inspected by Fire Marshal Armstrong and certified by the mayor as entitled to a license certificate with one exception. That was the hotel of Jacob Germand in State street, which was not equipped with the standard size of rope for the fire escapes and the dining room was not up to the required size. These changes are in progress and the proprietor will be given a certificate. There are 21 hotels in the city licensed to traffic in liquors under the terms of the excise law.

LESSONS MI GENEVA.

Secretary Adams Draws Then for Auburn's Old Home Week.

Secretary Adams of the Business Men's association attended the Centennial celebration at Geneva yesterday and says that the people of that city are to be congratulated upon the success of the affair. He says that the city is most beautifully decorated and that the inhabitants have taken hold of the celebration in a manner that would assure success to anything, no matter how large the undertaking. He was told yesterday that the city as a whole, and there are but a little over 15,000 people raised over $11,000 for carrying on the celebration. That he thinks is a wonderful display of spirit for the people of any city of Geneva's size. He states further that if the citizens of this city wish to put their shoulder to the wheel and all work together that he is sure that our own Old Home week will be just as conspicuous a success and thinks that if they do this that it will be of eternal benefit to the city of Auburn.

BULLET JNJINOOW.

And It Came hi Close Proximity to Clerk's Head.

What was probably an accident and the old, old story of "I did not know it was loaded" happened in Genesee street this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. H. I. Hartman of Johnstown, N. Y., who is employed by the Eastern Estate Tea Company at 28 Genesee street, was placing a window display when he was suddenly startled by a sharp crackling sound directly over his head. For a moment he was so startled that he could not find the trouble, but finally located it by a cracked window. Upon further investigation he found that a bullet had entered the window, scattering the glass about him. He at once notified police headquarters and Roundsman Graney was dispatched to the scene. He located what he thinks to be a 22 calibre rifle ball in the window glass and is endeavoring to locate its sender, but up to the time of going to press had been unsuccessful.

Mr. Hartman thinks that the affair was an accident, but said that he would prefer it not to happen so close to his head.

Married in Scipio.

A very nretty wedding took place at St. Bernard's church in Scipio Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Miss Helen K. Mullaly was united in marriage to Francis McGarry by Rev. H. T. Rafferty, an uncle of the groom. The bridal procession entered the church to the Lehengrin bridal chorus and after the ceremony Mendelsohn's wtding march was rendered. As the party were leaving the church a vocal solo was rendered by Edward Keilly of this city accompanied by his sister, Miss Agnes A. Keilly.

The bride was charmingly gowned in cream silk grenadine over cream tulle with lace. She wore as a bouquet of bridal roses. The bride was attended by Miss Mae E. McGarry, a sister of the groom, who was attired in white chiffon taffeta trimmed with duchess lace. The groom was attended by Frank B. Mullaly, a brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride where covers were laid for a large number of friends and relatives. The happy young couple were the recipients of many costly presents.

GOLF AT COUNTRY CLUB.

Season Which Opens Tomorrow Promises to be Excellent.

The golf season has opened at the Country club and from now forward the enthusiasts will have a constant schedule of tournaments to prepare for. Tomorrow George Underwood, president of the club, will tender a golf luncheon to many of the golf players in the club, and in the afternoon a classification tournament will be held. The results will be tabulated and the players will be divided into three classes, A, B and C. There will be eight players in each class and class A will permanently be the club's team to meet opponents in tournaments. The play, tomorrow will consist of four rounds of nine holes each and the classification will be made from these matches. After classification any player is subject to challenge by any player of the next lower class and must either maintain his superiority or yield his place to the person challenging. When class A is selected tomorrow it will constitute the club's representative team and will at once begin practice for the first tournament which will be held with the Cornell Golf club on the Country club grounds Saturday, May 26. The president of the club, the greens committee, and Capt. D. M. Dunning Jr. have drawn up the rules to govern tournaments and they will be posted today. The links are in excellent condition, the recent rains having brought the turf into fine condition, and many are practicing daily in preparation for the season ahead.

At the New Station. The work of grading the ground about the new station of the New York Central railroad was commenced today and will be rushed to completion. A larger game of men will be placed upon the job in the morning. Work of tearing down the remainder of the old freight house was also commenced today.

"Church Side" of a Hat. Youth's Companion. milliner who works in a large city says that one day a woman came into the store very much excited and wanted the trimmings on her hat changed. She said that it had been trimmed on the wrong side. "But," said the seamstress, "the trimming is on the left side. That is where it ought to be." "It doesn't make any difference whether it ought to be in front or back, or right or left, it's got to be on the church side." "Church side?" gasped the astonished girl. "Yes, church side. I sit right next the wall in church, and I'm not going to have all that trimming next the wall. I want it on the other side, so the whole congregation can see it." The trimming was promptly placed on the "church side" of the hat.

Sultan* Gift of a Lion. The Tatler. A good story is told of the late Sultan Burghash and Sir John Kirk, then Consul General at Constantinople. The Sultan had a very savage chained lion, and as a happy thought he offered it to Sir John for Queen Victoria, reminding him that the lion formed one of the supporters of the royal arms above the gate of the British consulate, and that the presence of the real brute would therefore be appropriate. Alive to the jest, Sir John quickly capped it and at the same time escaped the necessity of accepting such an unpleasant gift. "I am sure that your Highness would never make an incomplete present," he replied, "and when you are able to accompany the lion with a unicorn I shall be delighted to receive your muni-

EARTHQUAKE CHICKS.

Were Born of Setting of Eggs Sent from Auburn.

Special Officer Gardner of the Humane society is in the ring with stories of the California earthquake calamity. He stated that he received a letter from San Francisco today in which is related that two settings of Plymouth Rock eggs shipped there last March by his firm, were hatched under unusual conditions. The two dozen eggs were nearly ready to be hatched on the morning of the earthquake shock and the buildings in which the hens were setting was knocked down. In clearing away the debris a few days after the two hens were found alive and surrounded by 20 lusty little chicks. Only four were lost out of the 24.

The lady of good intentions sat in the union depot waiting the departure of the train for Elmora, scheduled to leave at 5:01 p. m. She was sitting beside her sister and two children, and of nervous temperament was observed to be restlessly moving about in her chair. "Norwalk division east," yelled the stationmaster as he strode across the big marble floor.

"Good-by, good-by," smiled the lady of good intentions to her sister, as she grasped the two children and stepped toward the gate. There was one loving embrace and a kiss. "Don't forget to wind the clock tonight," she admonished. "All right," rejoined the sister.

"Norwalk division east," came in stentorian tones from the man in the blue suit with big brass buttons on his coat. "Say, Mary, remember the cat. "Feed her," again the traveler said. "All right sister; I won't forget." "And say, Mary, lock all the doors. Burglars might get into the house," almost stunned the crowd that was listening to the dialogue with amusement.

"Norwalk division east," expostulated the stationmaster, who knew the woman wanted to board the train. "Only one minute, lady."

"I forgot my bundle!" she finally groaned, and rushing into the depot, quickly secured it. "Train, train!" the woman tearfully supplicated, as the big locomotive was slowly steaming out. "Conductor!" she cried.

But the Norwalk division east had gone.

New Railway Into Central Asia. Railway and Engineering Review.

Within a short time regular traffic will be opened on the Tashkent Railway, a new line which starts at the station Kinel, east of Samara, and runs southeast to Aktiubinsk in the Mongoldjarsk Mountains, north of the Aral Sea, thence to Kazalinsk and Turkestan, where it connects with the Central Asian Railway.

The new railway is of great importance. Although the traffic to Central Asia was maintained long ago by steamers on the Caspian Sea and the Central Asian Railway, up to the present it took six and one-half days to travel from Moscow to Tashkent, whereas it will now take only four days.

The journey from Moscow to Tashkent will cover 2,099 miles. Besides accelerating the passenger and post service the Tashkent Railway is important as far as the freight traffic is concerned, as for instance the transportation of corn to Central Asia and cotton and horticultural stock from Central Asia into European Russia. The new railway is also important, from a strategical point of view.

Beer Barrels Bombard House. London Daily Graphic.

An extraordinary accident occurred in Islington yesterday afternoon. A horse drawing a brewer's dray laden with barrels of beer got beyond control of the driver while going down hill and, dashing into Rodney street at a wild gallop, charged into some iron railings in front of the area of 19 Rodney street.

The railings gave way and the horse and dray tumbled into the area. Some of the barrels crashed through the window of No. 19 into a room where a man named Bowden was at dinner with his four children and his sister-in-law, and injured Bowden about the head. His wife and a baby were in bed on the further side of the room, and would probably have been killed by one barrel had it not been stopped by the chair in which Bowden sat.

The interior of the room was partially wrecked, furniture and crockery being smashed and a large hole made in the floor. The driver of the dray" was taken to the hospital. The horse was instantly killed.

Fortune Out of a Wreck. London Evening Standard.

The wreck at the entrance to Port Philip Bay, near Melbourne, of the P and O steamer Australia about four years ago has brought a fortune to a Melbourne draper, now the Hon. J. G. Alkman.

The ship which cost 550,000 pounds, was put up at auction, and Mr. Alkman bought it for 290 pounds. He gave an additional 60 pounds for the cargo. Divers set to work and brought up all kinds of goods—drapery, hardware, electroplated articles, &c.; 900 tons of iron, steel, &c. were recovered and sold at 10 pounds a ton. Ten tons of Muntz metal, taken out of the vessel in less than a day, realized 750 pounds.

Badly MJs-Kead. Waalilinciton Day by Day in N. Y. World.

"I saw the newspaper men twice in a mass," wrote the President in his letter to Senator Allison. "I saw the newspaper men twice in a mess," read the reading clerk of the Senate when he was reading the letter. Whereupon there were loud cries, for everybody knew the newspaper men have not had such a mess as the Rate bill affair to deal with in a long time.

THE PLUMBERS' STRIKE.

Neither Side Has Made Advances—Work at a Standstill.

There seems to be no change in the condition of the plumbers' strike. As far as can be determined neither side has made any advances to the other. The bosses have not as yet secured any men to do their work and work is practically at a standstill. One journeyman arrived in this city from the East last evening but returned to his home this morning. He would not say whether he was sent by the association or whether he came job hunting. However, he said that he would not work where there was any trouble.

Death of S. Alden Deane.

He caught cold recently and on Monday took to his bed, and his condition continued to grow worse until the end came this morning. He was a veteran of the Civil war and was serge-yt-major of Charles H. Stewart Post, No. 37, G. A. R. The funeral will be held on Sunday at 3:30 o'clock from his late home.

The deceased is survived by his wife, two brothers, Oscar K. of Jacksonville, Tompkins county, and Chauncey D. of Ithaca, and a sister, Mrs. Julia Culbertson of Waterloo.

E. church will hold a meeting on Tuesday next, at which time will be considered all sealed proposals that may be received for the erection of the new church as a whole or any part of the same. Cut His Head.

Patrick McLaughlin a boarder at the Hotel Savoy, was painfully injured as the result of a fall in his room last night. He tripped and fell to the floor and struck his head against a porcelain bowl. He was badly bruised and lacerated about the forehead and rendered unconscious. He was taken to the City hospital in the ambulance and is reported as being much improved this afternoon.

Police Will Watch Out.

Street Superintendent Soper has reported to the police that some "smart" young men have been amusing themselves during the night on the State street bridge by throwing the large cans used for the collecting of the refuse from the pavement into the outlet. One can was fished out of the stream this morning and one other has not been found. The police will keep a special lookout for the presons engaged in their appropriation of city property.

High School Kotee.

There was a meeting of the Athletic association at the close of school this noon at which Mr. Burd presided in the absence of President MacHarg. It was decided that it would not be necessary to purchase coal for the field on account of the approach of warmer weather. Manager Dyer was voted $10 for the expenses of the track team and Treasurer Strong was instructed to hand in an itemized account of the association's finances.

The first home baseball game of the season will be played at the Y. M. C. A. field tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 when Auburn and Syracuse High schools will measure strength on the diamond. The recent close game between these teams at the Salt City and the improvement of the local nine fortell a fast game.
