A CHANGE.

The City Club to Buy the Great Property on Genesee Street.

Prepared to Sell off Enough for the Government Building's Needs.

At a largely attended meeting of the City Club, Saturday evening, it was decided by a nearly unanimous vote, to purchase the great property, opposite the foot of Court street, from the present owner, Mr. Butts. This action was taken on the supposition that the government would not require the entire property. The club will buy the lot for $12,000 or less and expects to receive about $4,500 from the government for so much as it may need. It is thus calculated that the club will have a permanent house at a cost of about $10,000, including all necessary changes in the structure. For this amount bonds will be issued and will doubtless be readily taken up by members of the club. The papers are being drawn this afternoon which will transfer the ownership of the present club house, at the corner of Genesee and Fort streets, from James C. Reed to David Wadsworth, Jr. Mr. Wadsworth will not hurry the club from the building, but as soon as it is left vacant will fit it up as a residence for himself and family.

If the City Club succeeds in carrying out its project, it will lessen the cost of the site of the Government building by $6,500, while Mr. Butts will get $1,000 more for his property than he otherwise would.

The Funeral.

Carrying the Remains of J. Fred Dennis to its Grave.

The funeral of the late J. Fred Dennis occurred this afternoon from the residence of George E. Barber, 69 Clark street. Rev. John Brantford D. D., of St. Peter's church, was the officiating clergyman. The pallbearers were Henry Kosters, Nathan H. Round, Calvin Young, Sidney Welch, Frank Round and James Wood, all of whom were associated with the deceased in the employ of Osborne & Co. The floral tributes, in respect were many and beautiful, among them being a large pillar of roses in the center of which immortelles traced the name of "Fred." It was sent by J. Ensign Fuller of New York City. Mr. and Mrs. Middleton of Philadelphia also sent a similar mark of respect. The attendance at the house was very large and included John D. Dennis and wife, W. Delevan Baird, of New York, Mrs. C. T. Redfield and H. G. Wykoop and son of Syracuse, Percy Estlin of Buffalo, Merle Middleton of Philadelphia, W. B. Page and daughter of New York, John Adelst of Hornellsville, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKim of New York, Dean Sage of Ithaca, Capt. C. B. Hancock of Seneca Falls and J. G. Rollins of London, England. The remains were interred in Fort Hill.

Talking to-day with a representative of the BULLY, Roland R. Dennis said he was sorry the story of the robbery had got into the papers. Though it may have been true, it was of no consequence. As to his treatment at the hospital, that was different and he should follow up the management until punishment was meted out. It was claimed, he said, that he had said that his brother had never been perfectly well since the loss of his second son. That had seemed to take the heart out of him. He had once had similar trouble to that which caused his death and its return was not unexpected.

The Macken Election Case.

The United States Supreme Court's Opinion as to Informant Criminals.

United Press Dispatch. WASHINGTON, March 22.—In the supreme court of the United States to-day, Justice Gray delivered the opinion of the full bench in the case of Joseph C. Mackin and William J. Gallagher, plaintiffs in error, vs. the United States, from the United States court at Chicago. It is the well known Chicago election case and was sent to the supreme court by the United States by the lower court, for the purpose of determining whether the crimes charged in the indictment were infamous and could be proceeded with upon information. In the course of his opinion Justice Gray says: "The provision of section 1072 of the revised statutes of the United States providing that all crimes and offenses committed against the provisions of Chapter 7, Title, 'Crimes,' which are not infamous, may be prosecuted either by indictment or by information filed by district attorney, does not undertake to define which of these offenses are infamous, and therefore not to be prosecuted by information, but leaves that to be regulated by the paramount authority of the constitution. Our conclusion, therefore, is that all the crimes charged against the defendants in this information are infamous crimes, within the meaning of the fifth amendment of the constitution and that the defendants cannot be held to answer in the courts of the United States, for any of these crimes, otherwise than by indictment or judgment of a grand jury, and that consequently the first question certified must be answered in the affirmative and the second in the negative and the other questions certified become immaterial."

Annals.

Executive Appointment of the Broadway Railroad Franchise.

United Press Dispatch. NEW YORK, March 22.—The State Senate committee on railroads met to-day for the purpose of hearing arguments against the proposed bill for the repeal of the charter of the Broadway Surface railroad. Mr. Anthony R. Dyatt, counsel for the Broadway & Seventh avenue railroad Co., made the first argument, claiming that the contract with the road was a solemn and binding one and could not be justly annulled. He said if there was any bribery it was with the Broadway Surface Co. Mr. Conkling asked counsel if he maintained that bonds when wrongly issued, if put in the hands of another party became valid. Mr. Dyatt replied that negotiable bonds are as merchantable as any property and maintained that the Broadway & Seventh avenue Co. knew nothing about fraudulent bonds. Counselor Seward, of the committee, informed it as to its powers in the matter of the proposed legislation for amendment. An adjournment was then taken until Friday.
