SAFE OR UNSAFE?

Builders Disagree as to Genesee Street Structure.

IS ALL RIGHT AT PRESENT

But All Agree That the Walls Are Out of Plumb - Suggestions of Improvements.

The public hearing by the committee of the Common Council to consider the stability of the building at the southwest corner of South and Genesee streets which had been questioned by Fire Marshal Frank H. Armstrong, was held last night in the Council chambers at the City hall and besides a number of experts who spoke in favor of the contention of the owner, James W. Hart, that the building was safe for office purposes - the city authorities had several experts to present opinions to the contrary; while City Engineer W. Thomas Woolley presented a careful report on his inspection of the building together with certain recommendations to strengthen the present structure.

WORD TO FOELKER

Church Federation Praises Senator for His Action.

PRaise FOR DUDLEY, TOO

And Assemblyman Is Asked to Preside at Next Wednesday Evening's Mass Meeting.

"Do you think a building can be made too strong when the safety of the public is concerned?" "Yes, it can be made unnecessarily stronger. For instance a man might put in 12 inch girders in his building where six inch girders would do the work. I think there are lots of other buildings in town that are in much worse condition. There are many walls more out of plumb."

The monthly meeting of the Executive Council of the Church Federation of Men's Clubs was held last evening at Calvary church where the council members were guests of the Men's League. Notwithstanding the severe storm and that the delegates had to come from all parts of the city nearly every church in the Federation was represented. The only churches not represented were Trinity M. E. and the Universalist. President Abbott of the Men's League of Calvary welcomed the delegates and the League served ice cream and cake at an informal reception at the close of the business session.

BOYS' CLOSE CALL

Police Determined to Stop Practice of Jumping on Loaded Wagons.

Another serious accident was narrowly averted in State street this morning when the motorman of a trolley car carefully slowed down as the car approached a farmer's wagon loaded with peas on the vine. The small boys of the city are in the habit of following after these wagons and stealing the vines, jumping suddenly from concealment under the load and frequently endangering themselves by running into passing cars or other vehicles. In the above instance a small boy, after stealing a ride on the farmer's wagon, suddenly jumped out from under the vines and ran in front of the car, being missed by about 10 inches. Had the motorman been going at ordinary speed the youth would unquestionably have been killed. The motorman, had, however, slowed his car down far beyond the usual precautions. The city authorities have decided that boys continuing this practice will be arrested.

WHY THE BELL TOLLED.

As a Mark of Respect to Former President Cleveland.

The news of the death of former President Grover Cleveland this morning caused profound regret throughout the city and all citizens united in expressing their sympathy for the family of the late President. At the suggestion of Frederic Cossum, president of the Common Council, the city officials tolled the fire bell for 10 minutes as a mark of respect.

McKay, who spoke of the life and service of the deceased to his church, as a Christian and officer in the church, to his country as a soldier, as a husband and father. At the conclusion of the service the members of Seward-Crocker post, G. A. R., of which the deceased was a member, gathered about the casket which was draped in the Stars and Stripes, and conducted their impressive service. At the conclusion of the service at the grave Comrade Frank Barney sounded taps, indicative of the closing of life's day to another brave soldier.

HAD ONE BAD INNING

Orphans Not Only Beaten but Whitewashed.

DROPPED TO FOURTH PLACE

Big Jack Carney Arrived Last Night and Took the Team to Fulton Today.

The Lyons-Palmyra aggregation scalped the Orphans again yesterday afternoon at the athletic field. They administered a good coat of whitewash, winning out by a score of 5 to 0. All of the scoring was done in the second inning when bunts laid down by the visitors were poorly handled and a couple of hits made it easy for a quartette of scores to be rushed across the plate.

Louis Conboy on the slab

Louis Conboy was on the slab for Auburn and did excellent work outside of the disastrous second inning. The game was the fastest played on the local diamond this season, lasting only one hour and 24 minutes. Schmidt, the Lyons twirler, had steam to give away and the Orphans could do nothing with his assortment. The fielding of Carr, Warner, Bolland and Agnew were the features. Big Jack Carney arrived in town last night looking fit as a fiddle from his spring campaign with the Holy Cross team and went with the team to Fulton this morning, taking charge of the Auburn team. He stated that Steve O'Rourke had played wonderful ball at third for the Holy Cross aggregation, playing 21 games without an error.

Other Games.

Geneva won a fast game from Oswego yesterday, the Starbuckers losing out by a score of 3 to 2. The Starbuckers played an errorless game but opportune hitting gave the game to the Genevans, placing them in third place and 18 points in the percentage column ahead of Auburn, which is in fourth position in the league race.

Fulton Lost to Onedia by a score of 3 to 1, placing the former a tie with Lyons for the leadership of the Ontario league. Fulton made only one hit off Wilson, the Onedia twirler.

Storke Gets in the Game.

Alan Storke, who joined the Pittsburgh team at Brooklyn last week, made his first appearance this season as a Pirate yesterday when he played part of the second game between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh at the latter city. Pittsburgh lost, 7 to 3. Storke had one hit, three putouts, one assist and no errors.

That Skatestealer Will Case.

The Syracuse Post-Standard says: "Evidence to show that Mrs. Ellen M. Dodge of Skatestealer was of sound mind when she made her will disposing of nearly $100,000 was offered before Surrogate Edgar P. Glass yesterday.

Mrs. Dodge received her fortune on the death of her brother. Some time later she made her will and soon afterward was legally declared incompetent. About $2,500 was given friends, the Public Library and the Episcopal Protestant church in Skatestealer. Her relatives are contesting, claiming that the will was not her free and unimpaired wish. Adjudgment was taken to tomorrow.

Great Lamb Blown from Elm.

A great limb from one of the elms in front of the Walley residence was wrenched from its trunk during the storm of last evening and fell eastward toward the Baptist church, in its downward course ripping several feet of live bark from a neighboring branch. Other limbs of this same tree have been kept from falling by iron braces. It is probable now that the entire elm will be cut down.

Edwards' K. Fenno was the next witness called.

To questions by Mr. Hart he stated the building was safe for its present purposes, and that there was no need for any further strengthening, except to note the masonry in which a building stands up under various strains, etc. His examination, he said, led him to believe that the building was safe for its present purposes. If machinery were installed in the building he would not be willing to admit of its safety.

John L. Almut was next called.

He said that he had spent three hours examining the building from cellar to roof. He found that the South street wall leans from 2 to 3 1/2 inches. The rods, which are spaced, he said, unless they were anchored to the party wall of the adjoining building. "If it were in my building I would need to tie and re-bundle the piers from the foundation to the lintels."

In conclusion he stated that he did not think the vibration of the Syracuse cars nor of small dynamites in the building would affect its stability.

W. Thomas Woolley.

"City Engineer." In conclusion he stated that he had had nine years' experience in the office of the New York State architect at Albany and had been engaged in building for the last eight years. He said: "As to going suddenly I depends entirely on the external force applied. If the conditions continue as they are today, should say the building was safe for its present purposes, but if acted upon by some external force it might go, while in another building only a floor might collapse."

Two months ago in the height of the millinery rush the employees of the Millinery Supply Store presented Mrs. Peck, the proprietor, with a beautiful cut glass vase, the occasion being her birthday. Mrs. Peck was completely taken by surprise and could only respond by saying, "meet me at Krebs' in Skatestealer later."

Mr. Mark M. Conklin was called.

He said in part: "I would not make any changes unless I put up a new building. I might put in guy-ropes assuming that the wall was unsafe, but I don't think it is unsafe."

Yes, an assumption based on reason.

"Yes, an assumption based on reason. The building has been standing in its present condition for years. To put in tie-rods would make it stronger, but unnecessarily stronger. Do you think a building can be made too strong when the safety of the public is concerned?"
