

Normally Opened Last Evening with an Entertainment.

The new rooms of St. Mary's Temperance Union in the Sheldon block were opened last evening with a musical entertainment and box social. The entertainment was a splendid one and reflects much credit upon the young ladies who had it in charge. The first number on the programme was a violin solo by J. Henri Fischer, which was rendered in a finished manner. Mr. Fischer responded to a generous encore and was followed by Miss Anna Ryan with a vocal solo, "The Moonlight." After this came a piano and violin duo by William and Mame Bennett, vocal solos by Miss Etta Murphy, John Gallagher, Miss Mary Hayden and Mrs. Conder. Geo. D. Miles sang a comic song as did his little son, Walter. Mr. Tremaine sang a waltz song in a pleasing manner. Each number of the programme was accorded a generous applause. After the last number Rev. Father Mulheron addressed a few words to the members of the society congratulating them on the comfortable and luxurious apartments in which they have installed themselves and urging them to continue faithfully in the cause for which they are so zealously laboring. He hoped to see the society grow and prosper and do credit to the fine rooms and the name they have made for themselves. He was satisfied and well pleased with the step onward they were taking in the cause of temperance. After Father Mulheron's remarks, the many boxes provided by the ladies present were auctioned off by John Colbert and John Gallagher, and the enjoyment of the evening lasted until nearly midnight, when the party dispersed.

The new rooms of the society are pleasantly situated in the Sheldon block on Genesee street opposite the Court house. They have been newly papered and painted and a fine Brussels carpet covers the long floor. The furniture consisting of tables, desks, chairs, etc., is of antique oak and a handsome Wegman piano to match the furniture occupies a prominent position near the rostrum. No expense has been spared in fitting up the new rooms.

The Democratic Executive Committee Organized with Fred M. Smith as Secretary.

The Democratic Executive committee met in Judge Teller's office, yesterday afternoon. After settling on the arrangements for the reception of Mr. Sheehan, the committee proceeded to choose a secretary.

The County Democracy representatives raised objections to Mr. Stow and H. W. Babcock nominated Fred M. Smith.

Considerable discussion followed and the County Democracy expressed a willingness that Mr. Durston have the naming of the secretary. They were not satisfied with Mr. Smith. Mr. Babcock was unwilling to withdraw the name of Mr. Smith and the County Democracy representatives then named Andrew Kraus.

The vote was five and five. Judge Teller cast the dividing vote in favor of Mr. Smith.

Judge W. R. Hopkins and Dr. M. P. Conway expressed a desire to withdraw from further connection with the committee, which adjourned.

His Arrival in the City and Reception - To Speak at the Bazaar To-night.

Hon. William F. Sheehan, the Democratic candidate for Lieut. Governor, who will open the campaign for his party at the Burtis, to-night arrived in the city from Syracuse at 1:30 p. m. He was accompanied by Norman E. Mack, editor of the Buffalo Times. Mr. Sheehan was met at Syracuse by a delegation of the Democratic Executive committee, James C. Stout, Dr. M. P. Conway, P. M. Herron, Walter A. Hyne and Messrs. Day Trowbridge, James Bohan, W. W. Clifton.

There was no brass band to meet Mr. Sheehan on his arrival but there were dozens of enthusiastic Democrats, anxious to look on the candidate, whom the Republicans describe as the "blue eyed, red headed candidate." He greeted all cordially and many of the crowd pressed forward to shake his hand. They saw the blue eyes, which show no signs of fatigue, but the hair which has been described as red is not even auburn but is blonde of which a society belle might be proud.

After the cordial greeting which was extended to the candidate at the depot the crowd escorted him to the Osborne house, where he took dinner preparatory to a reception which he will hold in the parlors commencing at 3 p. m.

A CASE DISMISSED.

One of Game Protector Carr's Precautions Falls to the Ground.

In court, yesterday afternoon, No. 30 on the Calendar was called. It was a case of the people of the State of New York against George R. Pearson, a farmer of the town of Owaseo, for violating the law in spearing trout in November last by jack-light. Protector Carr of Union Springs was notified of Peterson's manner of securing fish and others in that neighborhood were complained of. He spent some days looking up the case which was yesterday brought to trial. The testimony in the case was rather weak and the case was dismissed on the evidence of the prosecution. District Attorney A. P. Rich appeared for the people and Lyon & Pierce were counsel for the defence.

When court opened this morning there was no case ready for trial and a recess was taken until 2 o'clock p. m.

The case of Henry E. Nichols against Frank W. Bruce was referred to Hon. S. Edwin Day.

The case of Bowers H. Leonard against Frederick C. Oakley was referred to Hon. H. V. Howland.

In the case of the D. M. Osborne Co. against Albert F. McGuire for amount due on a note, a judgment of $123.50 was ordered for the plaintiff.

The case of John H. Pendell against Edward De Forest was dismissed.

In the case of Saly I. Mayer against William E. Keeler as sheriff and Thomas Jones as receiver of the Rhetobottom & Teal Mfg Co., the jury brought in a verdict that the plaintiff is the owner of the property described in the complaint and entitled to the possession thereof and assessed the value of the property at $1,800.

In the case of the National Bank of Auburn against John C. Anderson to recover amount due on a note a judgment of $56 was granted the plaintiff.

At the opening of court this afternoon the libel case of George L. Morse against The Herald company of Syracuse was called. The case seemed to have excited considerable interest. The court room was pretty well filled. Frank C. Cushing is counsel for the plaintiff and Knapp, Nottingham & Andrews of Syracuse, for the Herald company.

The cause of the action will be remembered by Auburnians, generally.

The Hardwood Badge Which is to be Presented to Him To-day.

The survivors of the 11th regiment, Third brigade, First division of the Second Army Corps, are holding their reunion to-day in Newark. It is the first general reunion held by this noted regiment, which was known during the war as the brave Hancock Corps with General C. D. Mac Dougall of this city as colonel. A large delegation from Auburn left this morning. Among the number were Major R. J. Myers, Charles J. Stupp, M. W. Murdock, R. R. Gardner, Jay E. Storte, Dr. E. S. Forman, Charles Thompson, James A. Donahue, Charles W. Jennings and William Ferguson. Gen. Mac Dougall accompanied them and is to be the victim of a surprise. The survivors of the regiment have taken this occasion to show publicly the high esteem in which they hold the general as a soldier, and through Major Myers, will present him with one of the finest general's badges ever seen in this section of the country. The badge consists of a gold cross piece embossed with the number of the regiment. From this is suspended a badge of red, white and blue silk to which, in turn is attached as a pendant a general's star with five points of blue enamel. Over this is a clover leaf in blue enamel. In the center of the wreath is a fine diamond of the first water valued at over $200. The entire badge is worth over $800, and is a worthy recognition of General Mac Dougall's brave service during the war. The usual speechmaking will follow and a camp fire will be held in the evening.

NOW IT'S RUNNER BYRNES.

Mr. Docher Mr. Buddy Has Something to Say to Mr. Lynch.

To run Barren:

In regard to the article by Mr. Lynch in your issue of the 9th inst., I wish to say that my proposition to Mr. Lynch was that I should select one judge, and be another, the two judges then to select a starter on the ground and that the man thus chosen should start the runners by pistol shot. Mr. Lynch would not agree to this proposition, and named two or three men whom he would accept as starters, one of whom was Fred Vokes, king of job sprinters, who has the reputation of throwing a man for $1.50 or Lynch's side partner Jud. Dennison of Waterloo. Of course I could not agree to him as a starter.

I have personally arranged for five races for Mr. Lynch and procured the backing for him and, in three out of those five races the starting was by pistol shot, and one of the five was run by Mr. Lynch against Mr. Byrnes and was arranged for a scratch start, and Mr. Lynch found fault with me for not making arrangements for start by pistol in that race.

Mr. Lynch's statement in regard to my blackguarding him into an acceptance of the terms is simply untrue and ridiculous and is made to cover his desire to get out of a race in which he fears defeat.

Freenville Will Miss Them.

The Freenville Herald has the following: "For several months a gang of Hungarian laborers has occupied box cars belonging to the L. V. R. R. here. An engine and a train of gravel cars have also been stationed here, and the little band of foreigners all through the summer months, would go to their work in the morning and return at night with the regularity of clock work. They have proved themselves to be a very industrious, quiet and inoffensive lot of fellows, and our people have nothing but friendly feelings toward them. On Monday morning they were removed to Owego, where the railroad company has some work to do, from whence they will be taken to Auburn for the winter. They will be missed here by our merchants and meat market men, as they were never out of money and paid for all they purchased, which was considerable."
