The PROCEEDINGS to determine the correct result of the recent election as to the choice for mayor are well under way and there is a fair prospect that an early decision will be rendered.

THE ANTI-IMPERIALIST league of Boston, which was organized to find out whether the wild scramble for distant lands peopled with alien races, which the country has entered upon so unexpectedly and so heedlessly, meets with the sober and deliberate judgment of the nation, has extended the sphere of its activity, and is now, through the agency of corresponding committees, forming a National Anti-Imperialist league, with headquarters in Washington.

A GALLANT RESCUE.

The rescue which the captain and crew of the Metropolitan line steamship Herman Winter made when they took from the wrecked and battered fishing schooner Emma M. Dyer 16 imperiled men during the terrible storm of Cape Cod on Monday was one of particular bravery. This was the scene when the steamer bore in sight.

But men a steamer staff were coming At half-past 1 o'clock Monday afternoon the Herman Winter, which had steamed out of Boston harbor when the gale began to subside, sailed the dismantled Dyer and changed her course to see what the trouble was.

"How many of you are there?" Grove shouted. "Sixteen," was the reply in chorus. "Any boats left?" "Aye, aye; two dories out of eight;" "Can they live in this sea?" "Yes, with four men apiece;" "Launch them. We'll take the other eight and keep close to the dories!" shouted Grove.

found a hearty welcome. They were provided with dry clothing, warm food and berths, and were soon comfortably stowed away, thankful for the noble rescue made by Captain Nickerson and his gallant crew.

WAS IT A GHOST?

At Any Rate Something Thoroughly Frightened Three Country Residents. The Southern part of the county has been the scene of many strange happenings and queer tales have been told of extraordinary events. The latest to come to the city is a story of a ghost, a real ghost, not an apparition appearing in a haunted house, to the noise of clanking chains, wild screams of pain, or weird groans and whispers.

FIVE MILES UP IN THE AIR. Two daring London aeronauts ascended five miles above the earth in a balloon and nearly froze to death. The temperature at that height was 61 degrees below zero. The men went in the interest of science, and while the actual benefit of their trip to humanity at large was considerable, it will not begin to equal the great good accomplished by the medical scientist who has been working on the Stomach Bitters.

HIS DREAMS BRING MONEY. A story comes from Moravia that about one year ago Michael Delaney, of West Nile, dreamed that there was money hidden in a stall on the fair grounds.

To know just what to eat is a problem for many people who find their strength and health not keeping up to a proper stage. From food we must expect our bodily nourishment and not from drugs. True, a physician's care is required at times, but the true physician will always seek to put his patient on properly selected food and drink.
