

COL. HUSK IS DEAD

Was Commander of Gallant One-Hundred Eleventh Regt. FOUGHT IN EVERY BATTLE

In Which His Command Participated and Was Never Wounded—His Record.

Colonel Lewis W. Husk of the One Hundred and Eleventh Infantry, New York Volunteers, died at his apartments in the Wheeler block, William street, at 7 o'clock this morning after a brief illness. Bright's disease was the cause of death.

With the death of Colonel Husk another of the veterans of this gallant regiment has fought his last fight and gone to answer the inevitable summons of the Grim Destroyer. On August 8, 1862, Lewis W. Husk enrolled in the One Hundred and Eleventh regiment at Auburn to serve three years in the war between the States. He was mustered in a captain of Company G on August 15 of the same year. On May 5, 1864, he was made major and on August 30 of that year became lieutenant colonel. June 13, 1865, he became colonel, vice C. D. MacDougal who was appointed brigadier general of volunteers. He was mustered out with the regiment near Alexandria in June, 1865.

The formal record of his military career conveys little of the courage, loyalty and devotion of the deceased Colonel in the struggle in which he took so prominent a part. He was known throughout the regiment as a good fighter and a gallant leader. He possessed the remarkable record of having taken part in every battle in which the regiment was engaged and though he had many narrow escapes he was never wounded.

Since the war he engaged in business in Wisconsin, Wisconsin, and most of his life was spent there. He returned to Auburn about five years ago "to live" as he stated to one of his comrades, "and to die." He lived a retired life, making his home of late in apartments in the Wheeler block. He always kept up his interest in military affairs, especially in the old One Hundred and Eleventh and the comrades of the stirring days of '61-'65. Among the comrades at the annual reunions he was a familiar figure which will be missed when they gather in the years to come.

Some time ago Colonel Husk, in anticipation of his death, left a sealed note with Mr. Brunt at the Wheeler block, instructing him in case of his death to notify his commander, Robert L. Drummond. This was done and Mr. Drummond, with Miss Cora Young, a relative, took charge of the funeral arrangements of the executor named in the will, C. D. Gibson of Hamilton, Ohio, arrives. The only near relative is a granddaughter, Mrs. C. D. Gibson, who with her husband, is expected to arrive in this city tomorrow morning when the final arrangements for the funeral will be completed.

Funeral of John Dempsey.

The funeral of John Dempsey was held this morning from his late home, No. 14 Logan street, at 8:45 with services at St. Mary's church at 9:15 o'clock and was very largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. Patrick Smyth. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot in St. Joseph's cemetery. The bearers were Frank Meyer, Charles F. Rattigan, Thomas Scollins, Harry J. Reagan, James H. Rodgers and John Byrnes.

Died in Texas.

The body of Earl Frederick Young arrived on the 7:33 train this morning from Austin, Texas. The deceased was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Young of Franklin street, in this city, and was but 18 years of age. Four months ago he went to Texas for the benefit of his health. There he made his home with a brother who is in college. He had expected to return to Auburn next week, but an attack of diabetes proved too strong for him and he succumbed last Friday. The deceased is survived by a large number of relatives who will have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in their bereavement. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home, 240 Franklin street. Burial will be made in Soule cemetery.

Funeral of Mrs. Nora Flynn.

The funeral of Mrs. Nora Flynn whose sudden death occurred last Friday was held from the family home, No. 70 Clark street, at 9:30 o'clock this morning. The services took place at St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock. The church was well filled with friends of the deceased. Rev. Stephen Byrne read a requiem high mass and also conducted the burial service. The remains were laid to rest in the family plot in St. Joseph's cemetery. The bearers were James Wise, Daniel Bennett, John Hubbard, Owen O'Neill, Joseph Heron and Michael Clear.

Mrs. Flynn is survived by seven daughters, Mrs. Joseph McDonald, Mrs. George White, Mrs. Thomas Deegan and Misses Elizabeth A. Nolle T., Margaret M. and Kathryn A. Flynn, all of whom reside in this city.

Death of William J. Gleason.

William J. Gleason died at the home of his mother, No. 208 Perrine avenue, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning after an illness of several months during all of which time the deceased had hopes of ultimate recovery. The end came sooner than was looked for when he suffered a hemorrhage early Sunday morning from the effects of which he could not rally and passed peacefully away. He had been a resident of this city all of his life and was a young man very well liked by his associates who will deeply deplore his early demise. He is survived by his mother, two sisters and four brothers to whom will be extended the sympathy of their friends in their affliction. The funeral is appointed for Wednesday morning at St. Aloysius's church at 9:15. Burial at St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Burke Again Bereaved.

The sympathy of many friends will go to Mrs. Margaret Burke of No. 45 Chase street in her bereavement, the death of her infant daughter Alice which occurred at the family home last evening at about 5 o'clock. The little one was the youngest child of the late John Burke who on the 21st day of June last was fatally shot by an unknown assailant. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Death of Mildred I. Court.

Mildred Irene Court, aged one year and four months, only daughter of Arthur and Bertha Court, died at 6 a. m. Sunday morning, March 19, at the family home, No. 15 Bradford street, from complications following measles. Every relief known to the medical profession was rendered her but without avail. Funeral services will be held at the house tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. Burial will be made in Lake View cemetery, Skaneateles.

LADIES PLAYED HOSTS

And They and Their Husbands, the Travelers, Had Fine Time.

The wives of the members of Auburn Council No. 267, United Commercial Travelers, rendered their husbands a banquet in the palm room of the Osborne grill Saturday evening, and it was a decidedly enjoyable function. The Travelers have been giving a series of ladies' nights in the rooms of the organization during the past winter and Saturday night the ladies returned the compliment with accrued interest. Covers had been ordered for 68 people and every one was present. A fine menu of good things was served under the supervision of Landlord Thomas J. Dignity.

After the attack on the edibles had been finished the program of toasts was carried out. Senior Councilor Charles T. Sheldon introduced as toastmaster of the evening Irving Delamater and he made a capital toastmaster.

The first called upon was Charles B. Quick, his toast being The Ladies. Mr. Quick handled the subject in a most entertaining way and the gentler sex had no complaint to make of lack of compliments.

Mrs. Charles H. Abbott was next called upon to respond to the toast, The Traveling Men as I Know Him. Mrs. Abbott stated that her first remembrance of a traveling man was a man with a neck yoke across his shoulder with tin boxes suspended from each end. In one way and the other jewelry of various kinds. She then outlined the progress that has been made by the traveling men since the early days and told several stories about the best traveling man she knew, her husband, Charles H. Abbott, which brought down the house. She closed with a poem by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, appropriate to the toast and the occasion.

Courtesy C. Avery next responded to the toast, The Traveling Men as an Educational Influence. Mr. Avery referred to the towns which the traveling men did not visit as being backwoods towns, and the waking up and getting new style and life after the traveling man had shown things from the centers of business activity. He related humorous stories of a visit to New York with his wife, despite the warning finger of his better half. He also stated that when he had charge of the vast advertising management of the Osborne company, some of his best ideas were gained from the traveling men with whom he came in contact from all over the country. Mr. Avery also told of the higher regard the business concerns and the public generally had for the profession than was the case years ago.

The last speaker was Mrs. Lewis Ostrander who responded to the toast, The Traveling Men as Entertainers. She paid the respects of the ladies for the many fine social evenings furnished by the traveling men during the past winter, especially the crack cake-walk dancing duo composed of Barney Dean and Charles Sheldon, and to the off and off rendition of the Joneses Boys by Charles Sheldon, a song which he seems to never tire of singing. A tribute was paid to all traveling men as entertainers, judged by the members of Auburn Council.

A discussion was then held at which it was practically decided that the members of the council, their wives and families, should hold a picnic during the coming summer. There was a demand for another of the delightful ladies' nights in April and arrangements for one more during next month were at once started.

Then followed an enjoyable hour at six handed euchre, and all departed for home just before midnight feeling that they had had a most enjoyable and profitable evening.

During the evening those present were further entertained with fine selections on a Victrola in charge of Charles P. Mayoumber.

MARCH TERM IS ON

And Probabilities Are That It Will Last a Week.

JUDGE CADY IN HOSPITAL

And Motion Will Be Heard on Wednesday to Set a Date For Trial of His Suit.

The regular March Equity and Special Term of the Supreme court for Cayuga county convened in the rooms of the Board of Supervisors this morning, with Justice Arthur E. Sutherland and Rochester presiding. There are 14 cases on the calendar but on the call of them by Justice Sutherland this morning seven were reported as settled or not ready for trial at this term of court. It is probable that the disposition of the seven remaining cases will take up the balance of this week.

The following cases were reported settled or not ready for trial:

No. 1—Thomas Barry against James Barry and others, action in partition and No. 2, James Barry against Thomas Barry and others action in partition. Both settled. The property is located in Aurora.

No. 3—Sarah Dresser against Minerva Fresser and others. Prospect of settlement.

No. 4—Oliver G. Townsend against George S. Draper action to rescind contract, of the calendar on account of the death of the plaintiff. The attorneys agreed that the heirs of the plaintiff should be substituted for the deceased plaintiff and the action will probably come up at the regular Special term next Saturday.

No. 10—Arthur T. Hoyt and another against Jacob Routstone, injunction proceeding involving Moravia parties. Settled.

No. 6—Louise Van Order against Harry Van Order, separation action. James J. Hosmer is ready to proceed to trial for plaintiff but there was no appearance on the part of the defendant.

Case No. 13—Frank E. Cady against Danforth E. Lewis, an action to compel specific performance of contract in the transfer of deeds, etc., in the matter of the Cady block in South street. Attorney Frank C. Cushing for the plaintiff stated that the plaintiff was sent to the City hospital last evening for treatment and he would not be ready for trial for a few days at least. Mr. Cushing stated that he was anxious to dispose of the case as soon as possible. Judge Greenfield for the defendant also stated that he wanted the case disposed of as soon as possible as a big real estate transaction over the building was being held up by litigation. Justice Sutherland stated that he would hear a motion on Wednesday morning to set a date for the trial in case Mr. Cady was still to ill to appear in court.

The first case to be tried was No. 4, John W. Dean against Emma Dean Townsend. The action is brought to cancel a deed given by the plaintiff to the defendant of property located in Jefferson street near and on the corner of Clark street. The complaint as briefly stated by George B. Turner, the plaintiff's attorney, was as follows: That the action was brought to set aside a conveyance made by the plaintiff to the defendant, his daughter, for the reason that the condition of the conveyance had not been fulfilled by the daughter. She agreed to take care of existing mortgages, pay the board of the father, pay interest, taxes, etc., instead of allowing the mortgages to be foreclosed. Also to restrain the defendant from executing any other mortgages or liens against the property.

That the wife of the plaintiff died in the fall of 1903. At that time the plaintiff was in feeble health, caused somewhat by the fact that he was more or less addicted to the use of liquor. That the defendant daughter by a former wife lives in New York and came to Auburn to attend the funeral of her stepmother and took charge of the personal property of her father and stepmother. That prior to the death and the day before she died at the City hospital the decedent conveyed the property to her husband, the plaintiff. That in September or October of 1903, the 20th of October, it is believed, an arrangement was entered into between the father and his daughter whereby the father conveyed the property to the daughter, with the agreement that she should take care of him and the property and keep it up.

The property was placed in the hands of myself to collect the rents, make repairs and pay interest and taxes and the board of the plaintiff. Judge Turner said that the case was not sufficient to meet these demands the daughter was to make up any deficiency. There were certain outstanding debts including one mortgage of $1,100, a note of about $100, and several bills. Subsequently the funds were not sufficient to take care of the property and the plaintiff and another mortgage of $500 was raised with the consent of the defendant. A year or so ago there was a change in the management of the property. At the request of the daughter the mortgages were assigned to Morris Gost of New York. Immediately afterward an application was made to the Cayuga County Savings bank for a mortgage of $2,500 to take up the existing mortgages and reimburse the defendant. On account of the refusal of the defendant to pay the board of the plaintiff and advance money to take care of the property this action was commenced.

The contention of the defendant is that the deed conveying the property to the defendant was absolute. Frank S. Coburn is associated with Mr. Turner in caring for the case of the plaintiff and Attorney Sondheim of New York with B. C. Mead as counsel is attorney for the defendant.

Two other actions to foreclose the mortgages are on the calendar being brought by Morris Gost against John W. Dean and another. These cases will be tried separately from the action now on trial.

The next case for trial will be that of David H. Evans against Albert Reed as administrator and others. The action is to foreclose a mortgage of $1,500 on property located in Savannah, Wayne county. The defendant claims that the sum of $1,200 has been paid on the mortgage and that only $300 is due. Macdonald Brothers of Seneca Falls are attorneys for the plaintiff and Richard C. S. Drummond for the defendant.

An order substituting J. Henry Kerr for Frank S. Coburn as attorney for the plaintiff in the land contract action brought by The Cayuga County Dairy Company against Benjamin D. Hayward and Andrew S. Hakes, was granted by Justice Sutherland.

At the opening of court this afternoon the attorneys in the Dean against Townsend deed action reported that a settlement had been reached out of court and an order of discontinuance was granted. The two actions brought by Morris Gost against John W. Dean and another, to foreclose two mortgages on the same property involved in the deed transaction, were put over the term, it being understood that both will be settled out of court.

The trial of the mortgage foreclosure action brought by David H. Evans against Albert Reed as administrator and others was then taken up. Attorney Richard C. S. Drummond for the defendants made a motion for a dismissal of the complaint but Justice Sutherland reserved decision until evidence had been submitted.

Final judgment of divorce in favor of the plaintiff in the action brought by Eva C. Paul against William Lee Paul was granted.

The report of Wyckoff Hoxie as referee to compute the amount due the plaintiff in the mortgage foreclosure action brought by Ida M. Hunsicker against Mary Konechny and others was confirmed. The amount due was $956.67. Mr. Hoxie was appointed referee to sell the property which is located in Barber street. The referee is directed to pay the plaintiff $94.12 costs and an additional allowance of two and one-half per cent.

FOR "DAKOTA DAN"

Appeal Will Not Be Pressed at This Time, Simpson Says.

Boston, March 20.—The appeal of the North Dakota claimant to the $500,000 estate of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose from the adverse decision of the probate court a year ago, after six months' hearing, will not be pressed in the Supreme court during the spring term, according to advices received here today from State Senator L. A. Simpson of North Dakota, counsel for "Dakota Dan" Russell. Senator Simpson writes that he is counsel in disbarment proceedings against a North Dakota judge and that he will be unable to come to this State this spring.

One of the principal claims of the defense in the Russell trial was that the North Dakota claimant was in reality Jim Russeau of Massena. The North Dakota man who has remained here since the trial stated today that the original Jim Russeau died during the winter in one of the northern New York lumber camps. He says he is determined to carry on the fight against the executors of the estate although the gentlemen claim to have recognized as the real Daniel Blake Russell a man discovered during the trial in Fresno, Calif.

This is the case in which Albert H. Hamilton of Auburn figured so prominently as an expert.

WOMAN'S UNION NOTES.

Saturday Evening Entertainment Most Enjoyable—Book Reception.

The Saturday evening entertainment at the Woman's Union was delightful and the large audience expressed its pleasure in bountiful applause. The tenor solos by Mr. Brannick and Mr. Hyland were up to the standard of these well-known entertainers and both gentlemen responded with encores to the hearty applause which greeted their selections.

Two aesthetic dances were beautifully executed by Miss Johnson and Miss McCabe and encores were given to both. A clever song and dance The Top of the Morning to You, which formed part of the St. Aloysius entertainment of Friday night, was very charmingly done by a soloist and chorus of six girls and the audience enthusiastically demanded an encore.

Two musical recitations by Mrs. George Everts, accompanied by Miss Nellie Porter were artistic and beautiful.

Reports Are Confirmed.

County Judge Greenfield today granted an order confirming the reports of Wing T. Parker as referee and Willis Conklin as special guardian in the matter of the sale of real property of Nelson Conklin, an infant of Moravia. The property is located in Moravia and was sold to Edwin G. Harris for the sum of $647.55. The special guardian was directed to invest the money in a first mortgage on the farm of 117 acres involved in the matter, same to be paid off at the rate of $100 per year and interest.

Judge Greenfield also granted an order discontinuing the mechanics lien foreclosure action brought by Frederick K. Rich against Eliza Geston and others, without costs to either party.

The Cruel Wolf Spider.

One of the most unnatural things in nature, if the expression is allowable, is the manner in which the young of the common wolf spider treat their mother. After the little creature has laid her eggs she envelops them in a silken covering, so as to make a ball about the size of a pea, and this she carries about with her wherever she goes and will defend it with her life. When the young are hatched they climb on her back, giving her a monstrous appearance, and ride about until nearly half grown, and as soon as they discover their strength they try to and devour their mother.

His Last Request.

As the doomed man was led to the scaffold the sheriff asked: "Have you any last request to make?" "Yes," said the wretch. "I would like to have a pair of suspenders." So they assigned two hangers to the job instead of one.—Baltimore Sun.

Just Like Henry.

"But why do you cry so, Fran Maier?" "The sight of Vesuvius reminds me so of my poor dear Henry. He, too, was always smoking."—Fliegende Blatter.
