THE MAN who beat McKinley is dead.

SENATOR Hunter and all the other Hunters couldn't carry the Sterling caucus for the Court house ring.

CLARK street's railroad is rapidly disappearing. This is a preliminary to paving on which the BULLETIN has insisted.

IT SEEMS from the telegraphed fact that "the backbone of the revolution in Honduras has been broken," that there must have been a revolution in Honduras.

QUEEN Victoria will hold but one reception a year, hereafter. Some think she is growing old, others that she is becoming more and more parsimonious, others still that she dislikes more and more to meet Gladstone.

Now it is said that the Arab rising in the Congo Free State is a "Holy war," ordered from Mecca. Those Holy wars are becoming too frequent. Arabi Pasha waged one and lost. Then came the prophet who killed Chinese Gordon in the interest of the slave traffic, and was subsequently routed. Now we have an uprising on the Congo. The Arabs are worse than the Bourbons. The Bourbons forgot nothing but these wild hordes remember nothing.

GREENHAM isn't going on the stump, after all, and that puts many stories at rest. The Democrats, it is needless to say, are disappointed. Only yesterday, one of the influential organs of that party published a special from Washington which said:

There seems to be a general feeling of doubt among politicians of all parties in this city as to the truth of yesterday's dispatches saying Judge Greenham had decided to take the stump for the third party, and yet all Democrats want to believe the report true, for they realize that he can do more than any other person to prevent the re-election of President Harrison. Representative Chalmers, of Mississippi, hardly dares to believe the story but said: "It is true it will make Indiana safe for Cleveland, beyond doubt, and may have even more widespread influence."

THE SHRIEVALTY RACE.

The Republican caucuses open with eclat. There were two hotly contested events over North, Saturday, one in Sterling and the other in Ira. The Sterling caucus very much resembled an election, 440 votes being polled. The Ira caucus, in a smaller town, had very much the same appearance, 195 votes being cast. Fassett had 404 votes in Sterling and 272 in Ira. In both towns, it will be seen, nearly the full Republican vote was out at the caucuses. In Sterling Major Myers defeated Senator Hunter and the Wesley men by forty votes. In Ira, Myers was beaten by five. In the other towns, North, Wesley secured his expected advantage while the only town South holding a caucus went for Myers. In the Southern towns, for various reasons, Myers has cause to expect a large return of delegates and the probable result is that the nomination will be left for the city to decide. We are, therefore, likely to have some pretty hot caucuses in this town.

BUFFALO'S TROUBLE.

The labor trouble at Homestead was in its way a local affair. It involved the business of a whole city and a big corporation, but though the events which attended the strike attracted the attention of the whole country, it was after all only a local contest between capital and labor. The strike of the Buffalo switchmen, however, accompanied as it has been by acts destructive of property and the practical tying-up of two great lines of through traffic, is of broader scope. Of these lines, the Lehigh Valley and the Erie, the former is under the complete control of the Philadelphia & Reading, a pronounced foe of all labor organizations from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers down. Both roads have been paying at Buffalo lower wages to the switchmen than any of their competitors. Both refused an advance and the result is the strike. The strike, local as yet, is of broader scope than that of Homestead because it may eventually involve the whole system of roads with which these two connect. Upon the Philadelphia & Reading the whole country depends for its anthracite coal under the new combination. The Erie is one of the great thoroughfares of the nation's commerce. The Switchmen's Union of the United States is pledged to the strikers. How far such a strike may go, what its complications may be and what the results to the general public, no man can tell. With its violence, following the gory scenes at Homestead, the warning is plain that the workmen of the country are not only dissatisfied but desperate.

A Car on Fire.

A flying spark from the engine of the 6:50 passenger train last evening set fire to the roof of the smoker which delayed the departure of the train a quarter of an hour. The spark fell between the tins of the roof, setting fire to the wood. The fire was discovered as the train pulled into the depot. The damage was slight.

HOT CAUCUSES.

A BIG FIGHT IN STERLING AND IRA ON SATURDAY.

The Shrievalty Caucuses Taking up the Rege and the Men too—The Returns.

Eight caucuses were held in the towns on Saturday. There were hot contests in Sterling and Ira. In Sterling, the Myers men were successful. Ira was carried by the friends of Wesley. Seven of the caucuses were held in the North district. Wesley captured six of them. The Myers men carried Sterling North and Ledyard, the only South district caucus held also was gathered in by his friends. The results so far as reported are:

MARTVILLE, Aug. 15.—The largest caucus in Sterling for years was held Saturday last. The Myers' delegates were elected against the opposition of Senator Hunter. The vote was 240 to 200. Grainger Fuller, David McHenry, Henry S. McArthur, Albert Hopkins.

AUBURN, Aug. 15.—There is some dissatisfaction among Republicans over Saturday's caucus and it is possible another caucus will be held. It is alleged that Saturday's meeting was called to organize a campaign club and only a few knew of it. At the meeting delegates were named to the county convention as follows: W. J. Morgan, L. D. Husey, E. A. Manchester, John Hudson, Elmer Roazpangh, Dr. M. V. Van Buskirk, C. B. Morgan.

CATO, Aug. 15.—Wesley delegates were chosen by the Republican caucus, Saturday by a vote of 151 to fifty-one. The delegates to the county convention are: Will Island, Adelbert Pooler, E. G. Taylor, James Whitman, J. H. Mills, Stephen Cornell, Byron Cornish.

Death of a Former Auburn Lady.

The many friends of Mrs. Spencer, widow of the late Rev. Henry F. Spencer, a former pastor of the First M. E. church in this city, will be pained to hear of her death, which occurred at her late home No. 424 Crouse avenue, Syracuse, last evening. The deceased was well known in Auburn where she had a wide circle of acquaintances and during the time her husband was pastor of the First church in this city she made many warm and lasting friends. She was a lady of rare culture and refinement, remarkably gifted and was one of the early students of Mount Holyoke, the first Young Ladies' seminary in Massachusetts, where she fitted herself for a teacher. She at one time taught in Watertown, N. Y., where she first met Dr. Spencer who was then preaching in that city. Mrs. Spencer was one of the first and most active workers of the W. C. T. U. in the west. Of late years she was active in missionary work. The funeral will be held from her late home in Syracuse to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Dr. B. I. Ives of this city will conduct the funeral service. The interment will be in Turin, N. Y. Miss Carrie F. Spencer, formerly a teacher of the Auburn high school is a daughter of the deceased, and is the only surviving member of the family.

Paving Clark Street.

At this evening's meeting of the Common Council it is probable the contract for paving Clark street will be awarded to John M. Mack & Co., of Syracuse. The bid provides for paving the street with Corning re-pressed brick set in Portland cement at $2.55 per square yard. New curb will be set where necessary at 73 cents a linear foot and the old curb will be dressed and set at 42 cents a foot. Catch basins with sewer connections will cost $51 each. The $8,000 appropriated will only pay for the paving to Pine street.

O'NEILL'S HOTTENTOTS WON.

The Stump City Stars Defeated by the Timids by a Score of 25 to 10.

There was a game of ball Saturday on the grounds in the rear of Standart's woods between the Stump City Stars and a nine known as the Timids managed and captained by "Tip" O'Neill. Now the "Stumps," as they are called for short, have been annihilating about everything that came their way, but a feeling of dread overcame them when the Timids marched on the field. Every body expected to see "Tip" pitch a good game because he had his Shouts with him, but the thought that he and his phenoms would actually conquer the hitherto undefeated "Stumps" was not harbored by many. Play was finally called with "Mart" Henton as umpire. McQueen went into the pen for the Stars and he took about two minutes for the Timids to take over, intimating with his words and curses. They all had had and eaten and his team gave support in the field that could be equalled by wooden men. The Timids were finally retired and immediately put out the Stars in one, two, three order. McQueeney went into the box again but the Timids kept up their slugging and "Mac" wished he hadn't. "Eddie" Murphy twirled after the third for the Stars and though he pitched good ball the game was already lost beyond reclaim. "Tip" pitched a good game for the Timids and in only one inning did the Stars hit him hard. In that one they had him standing on his head but after some labor he was put right side up again. The score at the finish was, Timids 25, Stars 10. Murray and Conway did the catching for the Stars and Keogh and T. Madden for the Timids. A return game will probably be played and the Stars say they will have their revenge. The Timids got twenty-three hits off McQueeney and Murphy while the Stars got nine off Tip.

COL. RICHARDSON DEAD.

A Well Known Auburnian Passed Away Early Yesterday. Colonel John B. Richardson died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Frank B. Green, in Fort street, early yesterday morning. Colonel Richardson was one of the oldest residents of this city, where he was born in 1820. He was a son of Freeman Richardson. After receiving a common school education he learned the trade of cigar making and worked at it here and in Watertown. In 1843 he opened a manufactory at 64 Genesee street and successfully conducted business there for forty years, until in 1883 he sold out to John W. Hubber. In 1844 he married Caroline F. Hughes of Watertown, who died seven years ago. Col. Richardson was a prominent Republican, ever since the organization of the party and in 1872 he was appointed post master of the Auburn office by President Grant. He was prominent in the military organizations of this city, being captain of the Old Guard, one of the first militia companies in Auburn. He was afterwards a colonel in the 49th regiment. Mr. Richardson was also identified with the establishment of the Fort Hill cemetery corporation and has been a trustee for years and was secretary of the corporation from its organization to the time of his death. He was an honorable, upright, patriotic citizen and by his genial and courteous manners endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact. Three children, Mrs. F. B. Green of Auburn, Mrs. L. Moses of Syracuse and Rev. William C. Richardson of Newburyport, Mass., survive him.

New Universal Atlas of the World.

Rand, McNally & Co., of New York and Chicago, announce an important new publication in the way of an atlas with the above title. The new Universal Atlas has revised maps of every state and country in the world, brought light down to date with all the latest changes noted. There are one hundred and sixty-two pages of maps in the atlas, besides two hundred pages of history and description, and a full index of all the cities, villages and post offices in the United States, with name of county in which each is found, and the population according to the 1890 census. The index gives the location of the county on the map, and states whether a town is a post office, has an express office, and is on a railway. There are also nineteen pages of colored diagrams on historical, statistical and scientific subjects, and eighty other illustrations.

Everyone needs to consult an atlas. None can read the news of the day without wanting to look up some important locality. How many, for instance, know where the Court d'Alene mines are, where the riotous miners were pursued and arrested by United States troops? The map of Idaho in the Universal Atlas marks them plainly, as well as railway connections, Indian reservations, etc. This atlas is sold by subscription only, and an agency for it is very profitable. Its sale is already large.
