HOSS THIEVES GET BUSY AGAIN AND COPS FOLLOW SUIT

Sheriff Charles Green of Tompkins County notified local police headquarters by telephone this noon to be on the watch for a horse and buggy which was stolen last night from a barn on a farm eight miles south of Ithaca. While the owner was peacefully sleeping it is believed that the thief entered the barn, hitched up the horse and drove away unnoticed.

The horse and buggy was traced as far as Ithaca and it is believed that the thief is headed north with his booty. In the description furnished the police the horse is described as a gelding, 11 years old, weight 900 pounds, heavy black mane and tail, newly shod with John's Clipped shoes and leans slightly to the right when traveling. The buggy was painted black, an open model with black wheels and containing a red robe and a red and white striped blanket.

We have all heard the saying "Lock the barn after the horse is stolen," but of late years it has been "lock the garage and never mind the horse." But appearances would indicate that the days of horse thievery are not yet past and that it would be well for horse owners to take some added precautions. Thieves have shown a marked preference for automobiles during recent years, doubtless because of the higher valuation and the greater speed with which a getaway can be made.

ADVERTISE IN THE CITIZEN

PLANS FOR ARMORY BALL ADVANCING RAPIDLY TODAY

Hundreds Will Attend Military Party April 21.

CIVIC PARADE ARRANGEMENTS

Manufacturers Working On Floats to Be Used in Pageant, Date of Which Is Not Set.

The next big feature in the welcome-home program is the grand ball at the Armory planned for the evening of April 21. About 600 tickets were distributed among the soldiers and sailors who participated in the home-coming parade last Tuesday, and there have been over 100 given out since that time.

Every soldier and sailor in the county having an honorable discharge, or who is home on furlough at that time will be given two free tickets to the ball. Those who have not already received their tickets may have them by applying in person to P. T. Quigley at the postoffice in Auburn.

Twenty-seven boxes, each comprising six seats, have been provided for the non-military public. These were put on sale at $30 a box with Mrs. Ray S. Messenger in charge of the sales. Of this number 22 have been sold leaving five more to be had by parties who apply to Mrs. Messenger for them.

Besides these boxes, a limited number of seats will be sold to the public in the order in which applications have been received. Just what the number of these available seats will be cannot be determined until all the soldiers and sailors who care to attend have been provided for. It will aid the committee materially if every service man who is planning to be present will make application for his tickets at once.

For Civic Parade.

Plans are not yet perfected for the big civic parade that is to be held sometime during the coming weeks. Manufacturers are working on the floats that will represent the parts they took in providing war material for the fighters. It may not be the biggest parade ever held in Auburn, but it promises to be one of the most interesting. At first when a celebration was being talked over for a welcome-home demonstration, it was thought that this civic parade might be made a part of the military parade, but the uncertainty of when the units would return to Auburn made this impracticable.

Should the peace negotiations be concluded at an early date, this might be made the occasion for the big civic parade. This is a more uncertain date than the other, and it may be necessary to choose an arbitrary date sometime in June.

Former Huerta Minister Who Has Gone to Aid New Revolt Against Carranza

Washington dispatches tell of the State Department being informed that Gen. Aurelio Blanquet, who was Huerta's minister of war, has arrived in Mexico from New York and is cooperating with Gen. Felix Diaz in an effort to overthrow the Carranza government. Washington officials do not seem to believe that Diaz has sufficient strength to seriously threaten Carranza.

Record Day of Catches As Anglers First Go Out for Speckled Beauties

Many fine catches were made by the anglers who went trout fishing Saturday, the opening day of the season. Ideal weather conditions induced an unusually large number of sportsmen to don their boots and take down rod and tackle from the shelf for a day of tramping along the banks of favorite trout streams in different parts of the country side. Native trout, speckled rainbow trout and lake trout were taken in large numbers and nearly all the fishermen returned with well laden baskets.

What is probably the record catch for the opening of the trout season was made by George W. Hudson and Lewis F. Leonard on a stream in the south end of the county. Unlike most of the anglers, they did not go as early as usual and were out on the stream in mid-morning. They found the brown trout biting freely and when they quit the fishing ground they had taken 23 beautiful specimens, the largest weighing about one pound and four ounces. Only a few were under a half a pound.

May Be a Record.

This was as fine a catch as one could expect to bring out of the heart of the woods and bids fair to be the largest of the many big catches made on a day which was a record breaker for the opening of the trout season. When taken in connection with the other fine catches made it shows that the stocking of nearby streams if carried on regularly and with intelligence will bring results. Lewis F. Leonard, who broke a rod Saturday while trying to land a big fellow, got his best four-ounce rod out yesterday and went back to the fishing ground to try his luck again with the speckled beauties. Among the six fish in his creel last night was one beautiful rainbow trout weighing two and one-half pounds which will probably be one of the place winners in the season's prize contest for rainbows. While there is no distinction between lake rainbows and stream rainbows in the angling contests, the catch of this big fellow will probably stand near the top of the record for rainbows in brooks.

Two on Exhibition. This big rainbow trout and a large steel-head trout taken by Dr. William Huskes are on exhibition in the window of Whipple & Forman's Sporting Goods Store. The steel-head trout weighs two pounds and four ounces. Harold Putnam put in a strong claim for the record-breaking rainbow trout when he took one weighing three pounds and seven ounces. The largest brown trout on record among Saturday's reported catches weighed 14 ounces and was taken by Arthur Cady. Charles Haddell made a fine catch of native brown trout, the largest of which weighed 10 ounces.

Largest Day in Years. Game Protector Willard A. Hoagland said that Saturday was the largest single day for catches of trout recorded in recent years in this vicinity. Protector Hoagland was kept busy in covering the territory along North Brook and Owasco Lake. Fishermen were of the opinion that, following the rains which have fallen at intervals today, there should be another good chance for sport for devotees of the rod and reel.

BENNETT IS RUN DOWN BY AUTO ON OWASCO STREET

Cady Street Resident Is Bruised But Escapes Serious Injury.

A complaint was made at police headquarters today by William J. Bennett of No. 5 Cady Street that he was struck by an automobile yesterday afternoon while walking into this city from Owasco Lake. He was walking along the Owasco Street brick road accompanied by his young daughter at the time of the accident which happened in the town of Owasco.

Bennett states that he was walking on the edge of the road and on the right side and that two cars attempted to pass in the road near him. The squeeze proved to be too tight and Bennett was struck by a machine said to have been driven by Eugene Stupp of 141 VanAnden Street. He was knocked down and bruised somewhat but was not seriously injured. It is said that the driver stopped and took care of the injured man, conveying him to his home. Bennett was confined to his home today but expects to be able to resume his duties at the Smith & Pearson store by tomorrow. The accident was reported to Justice J. E. Pearson of Owasco.

BLAZE IN CIGAR STORE AFFORDS FIREMEN A RUN

The Fire Department was called out this morning to extinguish a small fire in the cigar store and news room owned and kept by John Wiggins at 23 Genesee Street. It is believed that an overheated steam pipe started the blaze in a place where it came up through the floor. The floor around the pipe was burned and charred but outside of that little damage is reported. Capt. Frank Hughson of the department said that fires will often start around steam pipes where they pass through floors or partitions unless there is sufficient protective material placed around the pipe. Few persons think of a steam pipe as being dangerous, but experience has proven that where a steam pipe passes through any wooden partition, it dries out the wood until it becomes in substance charred and then when atmospheric conditions are in a certain state, the wood about the pipe ignites very easily.

STATE UNDERTAKES RIGID ENFORCEMENT OF HEADLIGHT LAW

Francis M. Hugo, secretary of state, is asking for a more strict observance of Automobile Headlight Law. Lists containing the names of 51 lenses and light controlling devices thus far approved by this state are now being sent broadcast to all chiefs of police, justices of the peace and other persons in authority. State troopers have received instructions within the last day or two to be on the lookout for all automobiles whose lights are a menace to other drivers. Mr. Hugo, determined to lessen the number of accidents traceable to glaring headlights, warns that excesses will no longer be accepted for failure to have a car equipped with approved lenses. The list offers a wide selection and also gives the maximum permissible candlepower in each instance, together with the proper tilt when necessary. Lists will be furnished motorists on request. The importance of this early announcement is seen in the fact that today approximately 90 per cent. of all the cars in the state have been registered and are being run. New car registration also indicates a material increase during the next few months. While there was a fair observance of the headlight law last Fall, Mr. Hugo believes that, with the aid of the State Troopers along the country highways and the police in the larger villages and cities, by another month the greater percentage of cars will be legally equipped, so far as lights are concerned, and that good results will be attained. Booklets containing the 1919 motor vehicle laws of this state will be issued by Mr. Hugo and distributed as soon as the Legislature and the governor act on motor vehicle bill speeding.

BORST GOES INTO BANKRUPTCY

(Special To The Citizen.) Utica, April 7.—Clinton L. Borst of Auburn and Marvin E. Borst of Canastota, who did business as Borst Bros. in the town of Throop, filed a petition in bankruptcy through Judge Edgar S. Mosher with liabilities of $12,650 and assets $149. The creditors include Isaac H. Munroe $6,500 of Syracuse; First National Bank of Baldwinsville $360; Dewitt C. Covert of Skaneateles $900, and First National Bank of Syracuse $2,233. Mrs. L. J. McKeon Dead. Mrs. Louis J. McKeon died at the family home, 33 Peacock Street Saturday night. Funeral services will be held from the home Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with burial in Soule Cemetery.

A Delayed Funeral.

George I. King, known by every man, woman and child in Brown county and by all visitors who go to Nashville by way of Helmsburg, has been the stage coach driver between Nashville and Helmsburg and the horse driver for Nashville's only undertaking establishment for ten years. Recently there was to be a burial at the Story cemetery, twelve miles south of Nashville, and King was called on to drive the hearse. He hitched two horses to the hearse and started from Nashville at 5 a. m. After he had driven within two miles of the cemetery, he got out to walk up a steep hill and noticed that he had forgotten to put the coffin in the hearse. He turned the horses' heads toward Nashville and made the trip back in short time. He loaded the coffin and changed horses and resumed the trip. The burial was delayed four hours—Indianapolis News.

"Only Man is Vile."

The Quail d'Orsay, where the peace delegates gathered, contains soft, sumptuous carpets, gilded chairs, heavy square armchairs, artistic marble tables, wonderful damasks, which have so often figured in former descriptions of brilliant assemblies since the early days of the third Napoleon. Some connoisseurs of these objects demand that the sumptuous carpet be covered or removed, in order to allow the plenipotentiaries of those heroic countries to smoke cigarettes at their ease, even when absorbed by passionate debates.

Will Visit His Father

WAR RISK INSURANCE AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Charles G. Adams has returned to Auburn to resume business here after having spent several months in work connected with the War Trade Board in Washington. He will open an office in the Smith Block where he will again take up his work for the United States Fidelity and Casualty Company. He has represented this company for years and to it he will add a line of fire insurance.

CHARLES G. ADAMS

After serving as secretary of the old Chamber of Commerce for 20 years, he resigned last Summer to take up work in Washington. The War Trade Board has practically gone out of business and he has been holding out in the Bureau of War Risk Insurance in the correspondence section. He has nothing but pleasant recollections of his sojourn in the national capital. Besides his government work, he found time to sing in one of the church choirs there and was secretary of the New York Club. He was particularly impressed with the welcome parade in Washington at the head of which marched President Wilson. Mr. Adams was one of the chorus which sang on that occasion. He states that the parade was unique in his experience. There was a large band of Sioux Indians in native war costume which rode in the parade on white horses. The announcement that Mr. Adams had sold his home at 10 Nelson Street to Rev. Dr. Robert H. Nichols of the seminary faculty, carried with it the report that Mr. Adams was about to move his family to Washington. This proves to be erroneous, as he has purchased the Franklin S. Ball home at 12 Cayuga Street and will remove there at once. He is already located in the Smith Block and picking up the threads of his business.

Many in each of these companies are members of St. Mary's and they are anxious to have their comrades with them in the welcome their church was giving. The Home Defense Committee will also be guests at the banquet which will be prepared and served by Mrs. Pedigan. Stapleton's Orchestra will furnish music for the occasion and a few short speeches have been provided for. Rev. George B. Stewart, Rev. William Payne, Gerald D. Boardman and Herbert J. Fowler are slated for this feature of the banquet. The officers of Company M and of the Supply Company have requested that all members of these two organizations appear in uniform at the Armory at 8 p. m. tomorrow night to march in a body to St. Mary's Hall where they will be the guests of the parish at a banquet to be served at 6:30 sharp.

AUBURN IGNITION COMPANY SELLS OUT ITS BUSINESS

The majority stock in the Auburn Ignition Company at 3 1/2 Franklin Street has been sold to parties in Richmond, Ind., and it is understood that the factory will remove there this coming Fall. William Franke, president of the company, was the principal stockholder and he recently disposed of his holdings to a rival concern. The business employs about 30 men and women and work will go on here through the Summer under the management of Harry G. Kitchin, secretary and manager. The business was started here about 10 years ago and it consists of the manufacture of spark plugs for internal combustion engines. Secures a Divorce. A decree of divorce has been granted by Justice S. Nelson Sawyer to Edith Greene Morgan against Charles H. Morgan. E. M. Harvie of Savannah was attorney for the plaintiff.

EMPLOYMENT HERE STILL ON INCREASE

Warren Pershing, the general's little son who is leaving the United States to pay his father a little visit in France.

According to the labor tables kept by the Auburn Manufacturers' Association, the curve continues to show a slight rise. During February there was an increase of 200 in the number of employes in 30 factories of the city. March shows a gain of only 10. The figures on March 1 were: Males, 5,928; females, 1,737. On April 1 they stood: Males, 5,036; females, 1,730. The figures for one year ago are given for the purpose of making comparisons. April 1, 1918, there were 5,233 males in the same 30 factories and 1,780 females. The total then was 7,033 against the present total of 6,775, or a shrinkage of 258. The bottom of the curve was reached last Summer and stayed at the low level until early this year when the men began to come back from service. Nearly half the shrinkage from a year ago has now been made up, and this shows that Auburn industries have not met with any severe slump due to the letting up of war industry. Auburn did not soar too high as cities did which were actively engaged in munition making, and for that reason it did not have so far to fall.

WEATHERBY WILL TALK ON GARDENING FOR P. T. CLUB

Regardless of whether a war garden campaign is staged in Auburn this Spring, in all probability the kiddies of the Lincoln Public School will again till the soil in the large plot which last year was cultivated and produced a gratifying quantity of foodstuffs. The matter of working the large garden will be taken up Thursday night next at a meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the school, at which time E. C. Weatherby, manager of the Cayuga County Farm Bureau, will discuss the matter of gardening and point out the benefits, physical and monetary, to be derived from the home patch of vegetables. Even though hostilities have ceased abroad, the need for bumper crops is still imperative.

Beni Israel Auxiliary.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Beni Israel held their regular meeting last week at the home of Mrs. A. Davidson. There was a good attendance, and refreshments were served.

David B. Bobb Dead.

The death of David B. Robbins occurred Saturday in Willard State Hospital. The body will be brought to Auburn where funeral services will be held from their Eben M. Walker undertaking rooms at 47 Clark Street on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Burial will be in Fort Hill Cemetery.
