THE DEMOCRATS insist that it is just as well to let the Republicans do their parading before election if only they can do their own afterwards.

WHAT used to be known as "pernicious activity" is taking a firm hold, just now. But it must be remembered that it is only some certain styles of activity that can be deemed pernicious.

IF THE Canadian paper manufacturers form a combine, as is proposed, English capital will be at the bottom of it. The Canucks have no more reason to look upon the British capitalists with favor than have the Yankees.

BOTH parties affect to have high hopes of the result from the big registration. One of them must be deceived. When the figures are all in, both may find that they have been misled as to the vote of the minor parties.

LILLIAN Russel declares that she found no civilization West of the Rocky Mountains. Probably the civilized people beyond the Rockies didn't care much about Lillian's shape. That might explain why she didn't find them nor they her.

THAT there are heroes left in the present generation, the wreck of the Roumania proves very conclusively. Even the Laocans, under the stress of discipline, seem to have been more civilized than human, which means that discipline curbed the natural impulse which is for every man to save himself.

WEALTH beyond the dreams of avarice awaits the man who shall discover a means of curing badness, and the prospect stimulates medical inventors to the most extraordinary experiments. Two doctors—Dr. L. Duncan Finkley and Dr. Dumaineil, now recommend painting the affected area with pure carbolic acid. But these doctors will never get rich in this fashion. Their remedy is worse than the disease. Carbolic acid can never become a popular remedy so long as it retains its odor and its power.

GREAT BRITAIN, it is announced, will not retire from Uganda. The British never retire from any country in which they gain a foothold. That is one reason for the predominance of the Anglo-Saxon race in the newer quarters of the world. The Anglo-Saxons have shown an adaptability to climes and countries and circumstances of which nobody who knew their phlegmatic and dogmatic characteristics would a hundred and fifty years ago, have suspected them. That and their tendency to hold fast whatever they get have been the sources of their success in colonizing the world.

A PHYSICIAN, who was sent by the London Times, to make a careful inspection of Hamburg, reports that the homes of the poorest of the poor, "the slums," were cleaner and in a better sanitary condition than those in any other city of the continent or in England, but that the water supply was abominable. It amounted to little more than discharging the sewage out of the houses by one pipe, and pumping it back through another. It is little wonder, then, that Hamburg was the city most severely afflicted by the cholera epidemic or that a scheme of sewerage and water supply has now been adopted and is being pushed vigorously to completion, which promises to be one of the best in the world, as well as one of the most expensive.

THE REVENUES of the postoffice department this year have reached nearly $71,000,000 but the expenditures still keep a little ahead—amounting to $70,000,000 and over. The precise deficit is $5,998,288, but that is nearly $400,000 less than the deficit of the previous year. "One cent postage for letters does not yet seem feasible." Why not? Decrease the unit of weight from an ounce to half an ounce and the rate from two cents to one cent and the deficit will disappear because correspondence will increase and the half-ounce covers the weights which nine-tenths of the letters sent through the mails reach. But even a deficit does not preclude the possibility as it does not modify the advisability of one cent postage. The postal department is the one arm of the Government in which all share alike.

Dr. W. J. Emens, dentist, is now very pleasantly located on the corner of Clark and State streets. (Senter block) and invites his patrons and friends to call and see him.

MR. WEILER'S JEWELRY.

It Was the Subject of Legal Investigation in Syracuse.

The Syracuse Herald says: A gold watch, a gold chain and a gold ring which had been handed over to the sheriff in obedience to an order of the court by Antoine Weiler, who conducts a hair goods establishment at No. 220 South Salina street were the subject of considerable argument before Judge Northrup this morning. Mr. Weiler failed several years ago, and his hair goods stores which he conducts in Auburn and Utica, as well as the one in this city, are said to be carried on in his wife's name. The cigar firm of Schorn Brothers of Norwich, Chenango county, have a claim against Mr. Weiler. Attorney L. E. Fuller, in an effort to find property which could be attached toward satisfying the claim, secured an order for Mr. Weiler's examination before S. H. Jacobson as referee in supplementary proceedings. Weiler on the examination swore that the watch, chain and ring were presents which he had received from his wife. The chain, which he received on his birthday, on September 4th, 1891, is worth eighteen dollars, and the watch, which he received four or five years ago, is worth twenty-five dollars. As to the ring he claimed that he formerly owned it, but that about a year ago he was before Thomas Hogan on a Judge's order, when a demand was made for the ring. The ring is said to be worth $3.50, and Mrs. Weiler at that time came forward and paid that amount, taking the ring. After the examination Attorney Fuller obtained from Judge Northrup an order directing that the articles be turned over to the Sheriff, which was done.

Afterward Mr. Weiler engaged the law firm of White & King to get back the property. He made affidavit that his testimony before the referee was not read over to him before he signed, and claimed that his ignorance of the English language led him to say some things which he did not mean. He claimed that he never owned or thought that he owned the articles, and that what he really did say before the referee was that his wife gave the articles to him to wear and not as presents. Attorney H. F. King presented this side of the case before the judge to-day.

Attorney Fuller said that affidavits by himself and the referee stated that Mr. Weiler at the examination did not say that the articles were given to him to wear. He said that Mr. Weiler seemed to be laboring under a peculiar notion of the legal relations of donor and donee in this country. This notion seemed to be expressed in a statement which he had made to Deputy Sheriff Bennett to the effect that the articles were bought by his wife with her own money and that no one could touch them.

THE NEW POLICE SYSTEM.

Is Went Into Effect To-day—The Details as Adopted.

The new eight hour system adopted by the police commissioners went into effect to-day, when Chief MacMaster announced the following details for duty: 4 a. m. to 12 m.—Officers Gill, McCarthy, 12 m. to 3 p. m.—Officers Woodall, Hickey, Rhuts, 3 p. m. to 4 a. m.—Officers Parker, Shaw, Callanan, Malone, Thompson, Fullmer, Bresse, Roseboom, Atwater, Anton, Lightfoot. By the new arrangement the night patrolmen commencing with Officer Parker and then in order on the list as above are required to remain in the office from 4 a. m. to 7 a. m., when the day roundsman reports, for twelve days each. The officers on the Franklin and North street posts are required to report at the headquarters every hour during the night one on the hour and the other on the half hour so that in case of a call the captain will have a man to detail for special work.

Very Valuable, but Costs Nothing.

The best example of getting something for nothing which has come to our knowledge is the decision of the great specialist, Dr. Greene, 85 W. 14th Street, New York, to give to the sick and suffering consultation and advice free. Enormous fees are charged by physicians of the great skill and wonderful power to cure disease possessed by Dr. Greene, and the fact that he can now be consulted, personally, or by letter, free, is a matter of congratulation for every community. Dr. Greene is the discoverer of that great remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and all his wonderful medicines are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Our people will be especially interested in the fact that this eminent physician has made a specialty of treating the sick through letter correspondence. If you write him a description of your case he will return a carefully considered letter, giving you a perfect understanding of your disease, advice, etc., without charge. Sufferers who have failed to get relief cannot afford to neglect this great opportunity, but should write to Dr. Greene at once. Be sure and send for his symptom blank to fill out.

W. E. & J. Classes.

The amusement and entertainment season of the Women's Educational and Industrial Union in William street will open with a select musical Friday evening under the direction of the Young People's orchestra of the Central Presbyterian church. An excellent programme has been arranged for the occasion and the working women and girls are most cordially invited to be present. The educational department of the Union was never in a more flourishing condition, which is due to the untiring devotion and constant work of Miss Mary C. Steel, chairman of the Educational committee. By the practical girls of the city the news that classes in dressmaking and millinery are to open during the coming week will be received with much pleasure. The teachers of these classes are practical and experienced in the work and will do all in their power to elucidate the mysteries of the trades and help the working girls to make their own gowns and trim their own bonnets. The classes this year have opened with a much larger attendance than in previous years which shows the practical work done has had an influence with other women and girls. This has been a great encouragement to Miss Steel and her committee and they start in the year with greater enthusiasm than ever. Mrs. Knight, who has so successfully conducted classes in writing in years past, will have charge of the writing classes again this year. Classes in stenography and book-keeping are also being started and the classes in the elementary English branches are much larger in numbers this year than ever before. The superintendent, Miss Janet Alexander, has done excellent work in her position.

Not Columbus.

One of the teachers in the North street school is busily engaged in preparing a scrap book for the use of her pupils and among other things that she desired for the book was a picture of Columbus. Yesterday morning she asked if anyone in the class had a picture of the discoverer of the country that she might have for the purpose. One of the pupils, a bright youngster, answered that he had and that he would bring it to school with him in the afternoon. When the pupils assembled for the afternoon session the youngster marched proudly up to the teacher's desk and presented a picture. It was not a picture of Columbus, however, but instead a group portrait of Richard Croker, Hugh J. Grant, Thomas F. Gilroy, John J. Martin and Bourke Cockran, the big five as they are called, of Tammany Hall. Where the pupil got the idea that he was presenting a picture of Columbus the teacher was unable to find out but only the decorum of the school room prevented her from indulging in a hearty laugh over the incident.

An Appeal.

The annual donation for Cayuga Asylum for Destitute Children will be held at the asylum, 68 Owasco street, Wednesday, Nov. 9th. A committee of managers will be present all day to welcome the friends of the institution and gratefully accept any gifts they may bring or send. The urgent appeals of this institution have received such a generous consideration in the past that we look hopefully to Nov. 9th for a renewal of large benefactions. We trust that the excitement and anxiety attendant upon a presidential election may in no wise frustrate these hopes.

An oyster supper will be served in the evening, and the usual entertainment given by the children will follow, and all of our kind friends are cordially invited to be present at both.

A Proposed Church Addition. The congregation of Immanuel Baptist church in Owasco street are seriously considering the enlargement of their present church rooms. The society is practically out of debt and their neat church property speaks well for the thrift and enterprise of both pastor and people. For some time past they have felt the necessity of a Sunday school room, separate from the auditorium of the church, and plans are now under consideration for such an addition to the church as will accommodate the wants of the Sunday school. It is proposed to build a Sunday school room at a cost of about $1,200. The church has not as yet been dedicated although it has been used as a place of worship for over two years. When the Sunday school room is completed the formal dedication of both church and Sunday school will be held.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORTS.

Commissioner White Determined to Have Them Filed.

The Board of Education met in regular session last night. Commissioners O'Brien and Anderson were absent.

The Committee on Buildings and Repairs recommended an increase of the salary of the janitor of Bradford street school to $24 in summer and $23 in winter. The recommendation was adopted.

The Committee on Finance reported a schedule of bills which were audited. The bills included the salaries of teachers, the superintendent and janitors, and a large number for labor and supplies. Commissioner White presented an amendment to Art. VIII, Sect. 9, of the rules and regulations relative to the reports of principals monthly and annually. The amendment provides that after the reports have remained in the secretary's office three years, they be filed in the basement of the High school also to that portion which provides that principals shall not be paid until the reports are filed the following addition is made, "until the secretary shall certify that such reports have been filed as required."

Commissioner Moses raised the point that a month's notice was required before the amendment could be adopted. Commissioner White said that the amendment could be adopted by unanimous consent, but the chair decided that it required the unanimous consent of all the members of the Board.

Then Commissioner White introduced the following resolution: Resolved, That the superintendent be and is hereby instructed to require the filing of all reports for the year 1891-1892 called for by Art. 8, section 9, to be made by Nov. 20th, 1892 and that the salaries of any and all principals be withheld until such reports shall have been filed.

Commissioner Storke asked what occasioned such a resolution at this time. Commissioner White said that he had occasion to look up a report and could not find it on file. Secretary Snow said the report had since been filed.

Commissioner Storke said that so far as he knew the difficulty had never arisen before.

The resolution was adopted. Commissioners White then moved that a committee of three of which Commissioner Hosmer should be appointed to arrange for proper legislation to allow the Board to inaugurate the free text book system.

The motion was carried, Commissioner Moses voting in the negative. President Parker named Commissioners Storke and Hudson as the other members of the committee.

Having just returned from New York, we invite ladies to call and inspect our latest novelties in Millinery.

Orphans Observed Halloween.

The children of the Cayuga Asylum for Destitute children held an enjoyable Halloween party in the dining room of that institution Monday evening, and the children enjoyed themselves in a manner that will long remain a pleasant memory. The usual games for children were played, but especially amusing was the contest of biting by strings from the ceiling and the diving for apples. Chestnuts, pop corn and candy were had in plenty and an impromptu musical and literary programme arranged by the little ones was rendered during the evening. The event of the season will of course be donation day which takes place at the asylum on Wednesday next. The entertainment to be given by the children this year will be all new and original selections and will be of the nature of a Columbus celebration and consist of bright pretty songs and choruses and interesting recitations and speeches.
