SMITH.

HIS BANK ACCOUNTS BEING VERY CLOSELY INVESTIGATED.
An Expert Submits a Bewildering Lot of Figures to the Committee.

According to a Story by the Dispatch of Monday Past There was Intention of Fraud.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 7.-The Ceiling Investigation committee resumed their session at 10:30 this morning. James Y. Alden, expert accountant, was the first witness called. He said he had visited the Commercial bank in Albany and had been afforded every facility to examine Smith's accounts. He examined the accounts made between June 18 and March 4, 1889. On June 18 the credit balance was $528 13 and on March 4, 1889, it was $39 92. The account was divided into three classes-cash, deposits and State deposits. Between the dates named there were deposited in cash $153,985; of this $32,872 were disbursements, leaving net cash deposited $121,233. The witness then gave the dates upon which the checks produced by the State treasurer to the order of Smith were deposited by him as follows: August 2, 1888, $29,637; September 6, 1888, $52,160; October 1, $62,528; November 2, $65,228; December 3, $21,723.

The accounts also show the details of Smith's accounts by way of checks drawn against deposits, against the first deposit of August 20. There were checks for three amounts-$107 1/2; $2,411; $7,474; $7,464. The account shows only one of these checks-that for $7,474, came from the Commercial bank from another bank named Sullivan's bank; the Albany City. This practically exhausts the first check. Previous to the deposit of the second check September 6 and possibly in anticipation of it on September 6th, was check for $7,000 paid as is supposed in check. On September 10th was check for $1,000 which was paid to the Merchants & Farmers bank. There was $17,000 paid to the Albany county bank for T. J. Sullivan and $2,000 in cash that reduced the balance to about $1,900, and on September 13 there was a check for $4,233 paid to the Exchange bank of Albany, also on the same date $1,141 paid to the Merchants and Farmers bank, and on the fifteenth a check for $2,496 paid in cash that practically exhausted that check on October 1, the date of the next deposit, there was $4,828 and $4,093 paid in cash on the 18th and $1,400 respectively were paid. Of the next account, December 3, the witness thought Smith's check was $1,000 and the leaving balance was $2,700. On the 4th $1,000 was paid to the City bank, on the 6th $5,000 supposed to be paid to the County bank, $1,200 cash and $2,000 on the 10th supposed to be paid to the State bank, on the 15th $2,700 was paid to the County bank and on the 20th $1,000 was paid for a draft on New York, on the 25th $1,700 was paid to cash. That practically exhausted the deposit of October 1. On the next deposit, Nov. 2, there was $2,000 paid to the City bank, on the 5th check was paid by the County bank to Sullivan for $28,778 and on the 7th a check for $11,200 was paid. On the 17th a check for $2,000 and on December 1 two checks for $7,140 and $1,800 respectively were paid. Of the next account, December 3, the witness thought Smith's check was $1,000 and the leaving balance was $2,700. On the 4th $1,000 was paid to the City bank, on the 6th $5,000 supposed to be paid to the County bank, $1,200 cash and $2,000 on the 10th supposed to be paid to the State bank, on the 15th $2,700 was paid to the County bank and on the 20th $1,000 was paid for a draft on New York, on the 25th $1,700 was paid to cash. That practically exhausted the deposit of October 1.

Witness had asked for Mr. Smith's checks and was informed by the bank that they had been given up or above March 3. Smith's name gave the name of the bank to which the Commercial bank paid Smith's checks, and dates and amounts by which it appears that about 20 checks had been paid in cash at the Commercial bank, aggregating about $60,000, mingling with previous items of checks payable to other banks about $130,000, and $140,000, consisting of small checks innumerable. Witness said there was nothing in the method pursued in the Commercial bank, by which, in the absence of depositor's checks, the bank could tell to whom such checks had been made payable or to whom the money went. This is the witness's testimony. Chairman Fish brought the course to a standstill and ordered the stenographer not to take down any of his remarks. The stenographer was then called to the stand. His deputy, Jesse Westbrook, was then called to the stand, a prior statement had been probably made to-day or to-morrow. The committee then took a recess until 2:30 P. M.

The Electric BUREAU.
The Electric BUREAU from the West is now in New York.

New York, Feb. 7.-The five electric sugar plants were brought here this morning by detectives from the west and locked up at police headquarters. They were brought from Salt Lake City and their counsel endeavored to have them admitted to bail. The papers were drawn up and a motion to have bail fixed was subsequently made before Recorder Smith, but the latter was denied and refused to entertain any motion until to-morrow. The men were remained in custody of inspector Byrnes and returned to police headquarters.

Y. M. C. A. Building Burned.
PATTERSON, N. J., March 7.-The Young Men's Christian Association building on Market street was burned this morning. The loss is about $25,000, partially insured. The principal losses are: J. Best, Jeweler $4,000; Emil Moron, tobacconist $7,000; Albert Kronick, clothing $1,000; Stanley, hat store $2,000 and Robert W. Kings, owner of the building, $5,000.

The Senate.
Journals Detail Proceeds for Temporary Chamber by The Votes.
WASHINGTON, March 7.-Immediately after prayer there was laid before the Senate a letter from Vice President Morton, requesting leave of absence which was granted. Mr. Sherman then offered a resolution designating Mr. Ingalls President pro tem. Mr. Harris moved to amend the resolution by striking out the name of Ingalls and inserting that of Senator Venable. A yeas and nays vote was then taken on the motion of Mr. Harris and lost by a vote of 27 to 39 and the motion of Senator Sherman was agreed to. On motion of Mr. Hoar, Senator Sherman was elected to administer the oath to the president pro tem. Senator Ingalls then took the chair. Senator Culmox moved that when the Senate adjourns, it be to meet on Monday next. This was agreed to and Senator Sherman moved a recess for one hour, stating that he did not know whether there was any business for the Senate to transact in the California matter that he was advised that the President had no communication to make to the Senate to-day, whereupon Mr. Sherman withdrew his motion for a recess and moved to adjourn. It was carried and at 12:20 the Senate adjourned until Monday next.

Sale of Blooded Stock.
New York, March 7.-Fully 2,500 people assembled in the American institute building this morning at the auction combination sale of California trotting stock. Nebelst, with a record of 2:30 by Stamboul, dam Melus, sold for $5,000. A brown filly by Alcazar, dam Melus, brought $1,000. A yellow-brown colt, a full brother of the filly, sold for $2,300. A yearling bay, very large for his age, by Stamboul, dam Young Josie, was bought by W. H. Lites of Rochester for $1,235. A dark bay filly, by Klomet, sold for $900. A large grey brown colt, by Stamboul, was bought by C. M. Mix of Buffalo, N. Y., for $1,500.

The Copper Market.
NEW YORK, March 7.-The bidding for copper at the metal exchange this morning was spirited in spite of the fact that a rumor from London advised a decline of $3 on copper from last night's closing price. During the first call here 137,000 pounds in March, April, May, June and July changed hands at prices varying from 18 3/8 to 18 7/8.

The Kerr Trial.
New York, March 7.-The trial of Thomas R. Kerr was resumed to-day. Fulgrast spent a half hour or so on the stand undergoing cross examination by Col. Ingalls. Then the prosecution began on documentary evidence.

Killed on the I. A. & W.
John Morphy, a brakeman on the I. A. & W., was run over by the engine to-day and killed, while making up the 4 o'clock train for the south.

The members of the B. B. R. held a meeting last Monday evening at the residence of Fred Squaver.

Monkey and Parrot.
The bark Seagull, which arrived here in disguise recently, being bound from Acers Boston to New York, was a hard on Southern Dock. A partial examination showed that her forefoot was crushed. A part of her cargo of palm oil was discharged and she was placed in the dry dock to receive the necessary repairs.

By far the most interesting part of the cargo of the schooner Seagull, which was a cargo of Southern Dock, was a lot of several hundred parrots and a monkey. Several parties of ladies and gentlemen went on board and took a look at the menagerie. The parrots were a fine lot of young birds, one year old. They were of a bright gray plumage, with red tails. They are yet too young to talk, except in the dialects of Western Africa, but they are constantly jabbering and chattering in their efforts to learn English. They were on their way to Boston, where they were to be carefully educated before their introduction to society. As the ship was on the way to the Bahamas reefs, compelled them to come to Charleston, where they are now being promoted to the status of a monkey's education here instead of at the I. A. & W. The monkey attracts attention from all who visit the schooner. He is a fine large fellow, and is very agreeable in his manner toward strangers. He shakes hands with the ladies and endures the petting and caresses of the children until the small boy comes on deck. Then the monkey shows his disgust by making a grab that causes the small boy to leave at once.-Charleston Courier.

The Duchess and the Doctor.
An old duchess on one occasion requested Dr. F. H. H. to pay a professional visit to her house. The doctor went as requested and was introduced into the drawing room, where the duchess with tears in her eyes, showed him a ugly little monkey, apparently in great agony, lying on elegant cushions and almost buried in ivory lace. The doctor felt thoroughly disgusted, being called upon to act as a monkey's doctor, etc. He felt the monkey's pulse in silence, examined it with attention and soon recognized the nature of the illness, then, perceiving the lady's grandson in a corner of the drawing room rolling about on the carpet, he advanced toward the child, crawled on his hands and knees and, returning to the duchess, said to her in a grave manner: "Madam, your two sons are suffering from indigestion. By drinking tea and living on a plain diet they will soon recover." And, bowing profoundly to the stricken duchess, the doctor retired, saying:-Ex

Painful Realism.
The question of amateur dancing is already decided. The London Gaiety Company did that. Lady Lind, Sylvia Gray and Marian Hood had their spare hours filled all the while they were here with teaching society girls to dance. It is said there was held the other day at the home of a well known society girl the first reunion of the Gaiety Company's pupils. There were nine of them all told, but the ninth was indisposed, and so the company consisted of the eight performers and some ten of their particular female friends who had been invited to be an audience to criticize and admire.

The eighteen sat down to luncheon first, and when they had sufficiently refreshed the liver women the drawing room was cleared, strict orders given to the four men that no one in the house was to come in, and the performance began. There was duet dancing, pas seul, hornpipes, jigs, a highland dinc, which one of the party had learned while visiting the Bradley-Martins up at their rented in the Scotch Highlands.

Then there was a ballet divertissement, in which one of the dancers assumed the role of an English peer and the others were New York women.

This was danced with much spirit and vivacity. Six of them pursued him, cooed, caressed and coquetted with him, the duke answering every advance, but always flying when they endeavored to take him with a true lover's knot. While this was proceeding the seventh produced from a corner a number of bags and bags labeled "good" and arranged them in her circle about her. The duke, dying from the pursuers, suddenly seized the bags and their labels and is filled with pantomimic surprise and delight.

He lifts each one carefully to test its weight, and on this point, he flings himself on his knees and, holding the one or takes a flying leap over the solid into his arms. The piano struck up the waltz march, the duke submitted to the twist of the true lover's knot, the disappointed six danced around them in a circle, and the ballet ended amid storms of applause, every one of the audience doing its best to applaud the most successful thing of the season and that it must be repeated to a larger company.-Brooklyn Eagle.
