Cholera Infantum's Dread Record.

A Serious Time for the Little Babies.

Physicians Advise the Use of Pure Food.

LACK OF PROPER KNOWLEDGE CAUSES SUFFERING.

How the Health of Children May be Preserved.

Mothers of Auburn read what's here. There is an epidemic of indigestion and cholera infantum in this and other states.

Physicians say that in nearly every case the child is poorly fed and nourished and hence the disease.

"It is absolutely certain," says a physician in one of the medical journals, speaking of the alarming summer mortality among his patients, "that the cause of this high death rate among infants is indigestion."

At the beginning of summer, the best physicians gave warning that pure food must be used for babies. That this warning did not reach every city and town in this state is evident from the high infantile death rate.

Comparisons of this sort are absolutely convincing. August is a fatal month for the little ones, and unless lactated food is used, the local physicians say that the dreadful mortality and increasing amount of sickness among children will continue.

The one safe plan is to feed infants on lactated food.

Sons of Veterans Celebrate.

The Sons of Veterans' association of Cayuga and Seneca counties held their regular monthly meeting last evening with the R. J. Myers camp of this city in Edward Post rooms.

August is a fatal month for the little ones, and unless lactated food is used, the local physicians say that the dreadful mortality and increasing amount of sickness among children will continue.

WITH THE POLITICIANS.

Senators Hill and Murphy and Lieut. Gov. Sheehan in New York. New York, Aug. 11.—Lt. Gov. Sheehan was in town last night and so was the junior Democratic senator of the State, Edward Murphy, jr.

The Herald says: "Lieut. Gov. Sheehan was not ready to talk politically yesterday. He said he thought he had disposed of the report that he was to succeed Senator Murphy as chairman of the State committee by the statement that he is not a member of the committee and therefore not eligible."

AN OLD MAID'S LETTER.

A Pen Picture of Social and Loving Life at a Noted Summer Resort.

It may be that old maids are precluded in this contest. I am an old maid, for no fault of my own, goodness knows. I am also a Christian, yet kick rebelliously against my destiny.

Last week there was a new arrival at our boarding house, a man, a minister. I am suited for a minister's wife. Denomination is immaterial (the goal is heaven, it matters not which road one goes by).

He—Did you think it wicked to tell lies? She—Depends (laughing softly). He—When I told your sister yesterday that I was perfectly cured, I told a gigantic lie.

He—My darling, if I could only take your pain I would bear it without a murmur. She—Oh, no, you would not. You cannot know what my pain is.

He—My throat to acquaint them of my proximity. They look up. "Bah!" says the girl; "it's only one of those old maids. Go on."
