

GUILD MAY CEASE ACTIVITY HERE

Needleworkers Will Meet on Thursday to Decide Future Policy.

At a meeting of the Auburn Branch of the Needlework Guild to be held in the parlors of the Woman's Union in South Street, Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, a discussion will take place whether or not to continue the work of the local branch.

National headquarters of the Needlework Guild is sending Mrs. Morris Wilson of Philadelphia, national treasurer of that organization, to address meeting. Officials and members of Auburn Branch will confer with Mrs. Wilson on Thursday relative to carrying on the work which they do in conjunction with the various charitable organizations in this city.

The Auburn Branch of the Needlework Guild, which is a national organization, was founded here in 1893 by Mrs. David Wadsworth, Jr. Since that time it has endeavored to aid the needy by giving out articles of clothing and such, made and donated by the club members here. The local branch has always accomplished this fine work with great success. Club officials stated today, inasmuch as the demand for such philanthropic aid has been lessened here by the forming of the Community Chest and other charitable organizations.

Miss Isabel Wills, president of the Auburn Branch, will preside at the meeting on Thursday.

Villainy or Vanilla?

People say sometimes, why is it I can't find Good Vanilla any more? One reason is that there is so much of the other kind. But you can find it if you'll take the trouble. First, look at the label. If it says, Vanille Comp., Vanilla Flavor, Vanilla and something else, in fact it says anything but Pure Vanilla pass it up, it isn't the kind you're looking for.

Secondly, all Pure Vanilla is not necessarily a first class product. Whether it is made from Mexican or Tahiti Vanilla Beans, whether the beans are "long" or "short," whether they are "prime" or "seconds," whether the extract was made by the hot or cold process, how long it has aged since making, all these things determine the fineness of the finished product.

Two much detail to go into every-time you want a bottle of Vanilla? Yes, that's true, but we have gone into it for you.

Our Vanilla is made by a firm whose chief business for three generations has been the buying of Vanilla Beans and manufacture of Vanilla products. We believe they make the best Vanilla in this country and we buy the best grade they make.

Further, Vanilla improves with age. They guarantee our Vanilla to be over a year old before they ship it out. The lot we are bottling now was a year old last July.

It's mellow, it's rich, it's strong; you'll find the flavor you've missed, coming back to your baked goods when you use it.

The price is probably not much higher than you're paying for Vanilla that doesn't quite satisfy—the bottles are full measure.

TODAY IS 94TH BIRTHDAY OF REV. DR. W. M. BEAUCHAMP
 Rev. Dr. William M. Beauchamp, of Syracuse, well known in this city, today celebrated his 94th birthday anniversary. He is still in good health and passed the day with light exercise and receiving congratulations and visits from friends and acquaintances.

This noon, he spoke at the midday Lenten services at St. Paul's Church, Syracuse, and Friday he will go to Manlius to deliver the morning sermon at St. Phillip's Church.

FIERY CROSS IS SEEN NEAR CITY
 John F. Slattery of 84 Garrow Street, reports seeing what appeared to be a burning cross in the fields south of his residence last night at about 10:30 o'clock. Other members of his family also saw the spectacle and believe it was a fiery emblem of the Klu Klux Klan. The location of the burning cross was a small hill back of the old Quill farm and east of a patch of thicket called the First Woods.

OBITUARY

Funeral of Father O'Donoghue.
 Funeral services for the late Rev. John J. O'Donoghue, who died yesterday afternoon at his home in Clifton Springs, will be held in St. Mary's Church of this city tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in the family plot in St. Joseph's Cemetery. Vespers of the dead will be sung in St. Felix Church, the late pastor of the deceased, this evening at 7:30 o'clock. A requiem high mass will be sung at the same church in Clifton Springs tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Father O'Donoghue was in his 48th year. He had been in poor health for about two months. The deceased was born in Auburn and received his elementary education in St. Mary's School. He later was graduated from St. Andrew's and St. Bernard's seminaries in Rochester and was ordained for the priesthood. He was assistant pastor of St. Bridget's Church in Rochester for a time. From there he went to St. Ann's Church in Hornell. He also served in the capacity of chaplain of the Soldiers' Home in Bath for a time. Then he was appointed pastor of St. Felix Church in Clifton Springs where he was active up until the time of his death. He was one of the most popular priests in the diocese of Rochester.

Father O'Donoghue leaves but one close relative, a sister, Anna. She made her home at Clifton Springs with him.

The Catton Funeral.
 Funeral services for the late George R. Catton were held in the Tallman-Walker undertaking establishment, 47 Clark Street, this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Rev. Condit W. Edger, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church officiated at the services, which were conducted by the G. A. R.

The bearers were all postoffice employees as follows: David D. Hulbert, Edgar A. Rose, William L. Hodder, Joseph F. Ibbotson, C. H. Abbott and Martin D. Houser. Burial was in Soule Cemetery.

Funeral of Daniel J. Grant.
 The remains of Daniel J. Grant, who died in Tonawanda on Sunday afternoon, will be brought to this city this afternoon and taken to his late home in 204 Woodlawn Avenue.

Funeral arrangements are as yet incomplete, although it is expected that the funeral will be held Friday. James L. Long, state superintendent of prisons, was in Auburn today to attend the funeral. The Parole Board has suspended its activities for the week that the members may attend the services here for the late superintendent of industries at Auburn Prison.

Henry S. Webb Funeral.
 Funeral services for Henry S. Webb were held at his late home, 1 Sherwood Street, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Kenneth B. Bowen, pastor of the Central Church of Christ, Discipline, officiated. The services were in charge of the local G. A. R. Members of the family and near relatives acted as bearers.

The late Henry S. Webb was a re-embellished veteran of the War of the Rebellion, having first enlisted in Battery D, First N. Y. Light Artillery, in August, 1861, which was assigned with Hooker's Division.

He was at Fortress Monroe and while on the way to the Peninsula the battle between the Monitor and Merrimack. He also participated in the siege of Yorktown, battle of Williamsburg, Fair Oaks, and the seven days' battle before Richmond.

Returning from the Peninsula he took part in Burnside's slaughter at Fredericksburg and the battle of Chancellorsville. He reenlisted at Brandy Station, Va., December 24, 1862, in the same battery. He then took part in the battle of Gettysburg, and was in the thick of the fray which took place in the wheatfields there.

Following that very important battle he took part in the siege and capture of Petersburg and all of the remaining engagements of importance up to and including the capture of Lee's Army at Appomattox. He marched back from there with the army to Washington and was in the grand review held in that city. He was discharged from the Union forces June 18, 1865, having served three years and 10 months.

He has been a member of the G. A. R. for 44 years and was commander of the Seward Post at one time. He served as Quartermaster of the Charles H. Stewart Post, G. A. R. for five years.

MERCHANTS WILL MEET TOMORROW

Circus, Trading Events, Budget, Etc. Will Be Given Attention.

The Retail Merchants' Executive Council of the Chamber of Commerce will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce. The council, at present comprised of 17 members, will tomorrow increase its membership to 21 members in accordance with a change in by-laws adopted at the annual dinner March 14. These four additional members to the council will be chosen at the session.

The plans to have the combined Ringling Brothers and Barnum Bailey circus here in June, which the chamber and merchants' Division have been laying, will also be discussed tomorrow. The importance of getting this circus to town can be understood when it is estimated that between 12 and 20 thousand outsiders are expected to be attracted to the city to see the performances.

Attention will also be given to complaints being received that stores or markets on outlying districts are being kept open Sundays.

The council will discuss various trade events scheduled for the coming year. Heretofore, many of these events were not planned until the arrival of the particular season fitting them but it is now proposed to map out a complete schedule of all the merchandise or trade events for the whole year.

The 1924 budget will also be discussed by the council as will details for the Retail Merchants' Institute of Chicago school which will be held there April 7 to 11, inclusive.

The retail merchants of Auburn are making preparations for the series of get-together meetings of the business people of Auburn to be held in connection with the Merchants and Community Institute of the Chamber of Commerce during the week of April 7.

Lectures, conferences and round-table discussions on Salesmanship, advertising, display, trade extension, business management, community development and so on will be featured. Three prominent representatives from the Retail Merchants' Institute will come from Chicago to take charge.

The Institute is an outcome of the agreement signed with J. W. Griest, representative from the Institute, at the recent retail merchants dinner given at the Chamber of Commerce.

During the five days, Pryor Irwin, counselor and retail investigator, Ben R. Vardaman, business and community expert, and Miss Ruth Leigh, another representative from Chicago, are in Auburn, there will be sessions each morning, noon and evening at the Chamber.

Mr. Vardaman is a lecturer, author, editor and business man, and has a wide reputation as an authority on business and community problems. He was for a number of years associated with the National Association of Retail Clothiers in the capacity of editorial writer, lecturer and educational director.

Mr. Irwin, for 20 years, was a student of retail merchandising. He has had 10 years of practical experience and for three years was instructor in retail merchandising at the University of Wisconsin, Extension Division.

FATHER CONWAY ADDRESSES CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS HERE

A large number of members of Court Auburn, No. 263, Catholic Daughters of America, listened to a fine talk on Organizations and Their Aims given by Rev. John A. Conway, pastor of the Holy Family Church, last night, in the Knights of Columbus council rooms.

A business meeting was held before Father Conway was introduced. After the talk, a program of entertainment was given, including solos by Miss Helen Herron and Miss Mary Theiss.

QUIZ INTERNAL REVENUE BUREAU ON MELLON RUMORS

Washington, March 23.—Abatement and similar allowances in favor of the payers prior to actual payment of taxes and insinuations that "Mellon companies" have been given preferential consideration continued today to engage the attention of the special Senate committee investigating the Internal Revenue Bureau. Bureau officials informed the committee yesterday they would present the tax records of companies in which Secretary Mellon is interested as an answer to the inferences that these concerns have been favored.

BRIDGE WORK WILL HALT PASSAGE OF TROLLEYS
 The center span in the construction of the new State Street bridge will be removed tomorrow, thus necessitating some changes in the trolley service, starting tomorrow morning.

The city trolleys will transfer their passengers at the New York Central crossing. The Port Byron trolley will terminate its trip at the N. Y. C. crossing instead of coming down to the trolley station. The freight on the Rochester freight cars will, as usual, be handled at the freight house in Dill Street. All of the cars will run on their regular schedules.

SCOUTS PLANT FOREST

Rome Council Has Highly Successful Reforestation Project.

Albany, March 23.—The largest distinctively Boy Scout forest project in the state is being conducted successfully by the Rome Council Boy Scouts of America on a tract of land purchased by them a few years ago in Oneida County.

In 1920 the Rome Council, B. S. A., incorporated, purchased a tract of 162 acres near Point Lock for the purpose of a Boy Scout Summer camp. Thirty acres of this is a small lake formerly known as Point Rock pond or Bull head Lake, but renamed by the Scouts Scout Lake. Of the 162 acre tract, about 50 acres was barren sandy soil. Most of the remainder is covered with a good second growth of maple, beech, birch, aspen and a few evergreens.

The land cost on an average of $15 an acre and the money was given to the Scouts by the Rome War Chest. A local friend of the Council, Dr. W. L. Kingler, supplied $12,000 for camp equipment which was installed on the property.

Back of the site chosen for the camp proper was a troublesome sand blow, and after an examination of the best method for utilizing this it was decided to reforest it with evergreen trees. An initial order for 1,000 white pine transplants, 1,000 Norway spruce transplants, and 1,000 black Locust seedlings was placed with the Conservation Commission in the Fall of 1921 for planting in the Spring of 1922. In 1922 the council repeated its order and made a second plantation of 3,000 trees. Two years since to demonstrate the success of the first plantation and the council this year ordered 10,000 trees for this year's planting.

On the sand blow 50 per cent. of the trees first planted are doing well, and where there is some soil at least 80 per cent. of the trees are growing. The council decided to continue the work of reforestation until all of the waste land is reforested as it was felt to be a good thing for the boys to have an interest in the reforestation of our worthless farm lands.

Scout Executive George W. Guyer, under whose direction this work has been done, expects ultimately to have all of the open part of the ground, with the exception of a few acres around the building, covered with forest growth. The Scouts are very keen on this work, pay careful attention to the details of planting and caring for the young trees.

The successful work of the Rome Council opens up a broad field of constructive conservation for Boy Scouts throughout the state.

BOYS STARTED FOR TEXAS; PICKED UP BY THE POLICE

John Carroll and Willie St. George, a pair of 16-year-old Utica chaps were picked up by the police last night. The boys left Utica a few days ago with Texas as their objective. They got as far as Geneva, ran out of change and were backtracking when picked up here. Neither showed any desire to return to their homes in a talk with Chief Bell. Their parents were notified.

Workman Is Killed in Salt Mine

Leslie Carnifax, 25 an employe of the Cayuga Rock Salt Company at Portland Point, several miles north of Ithaca, was instantly killed early this morning in one of the concern's shafts 1,500 feet below the surface.

Carnifax was operating a drill in the bottom of the shaft when a wooden plank bit him on the head, fracturing his skull. Several other miners went to his assistance and Carnifax was hauled to the surface and medical assistance summoned. Examination revealed that he had died instantly. Carnifax was born in Leander, West Va., where it is planned to send the body.

TWENTY-FIVE THOUSAND TROUT FRY ARE PLANTED BY SPORTSMEN

Today Another and Larger Shipment Arrives from State Hatcheries and Trucks Take Baby Fish to Sequestered Streams for Stocking.

Twenty-five thousand trout fry were planted yesterday afternoon in streams in the south end of Cayuga County by the Cayuga County Sportsmen's Association, and today a second shipment slightly in excess of this number, was received on an afternoon train from the state hatcheries at Mumfords. The planting this year is earlier than normal, owing to the fact that the state hatcheries are overcrowded and room must be made for other species of the brook trout being the first to be raised in a condition ready for planting.

Members of the association met the shipment at the train and with trucks and automobiles took them to the streams. Owing to the swollen condition of the Cayuga County waters at this time, it is difficult to find suitable locations for planting the small stock, and the small band of faithful members of the association who help in the planting have to make some long "carries" to place the trout in suitable spots.

Your Question AND ITS ANSWER

QUESTION—"I am a man of forty years of age and my blood pressure tests 162. It has been this high for a year or more. Is Chiropactor good for this disease? Have tried other remedies without results?"

ANSWER—"You must bear in mind that high blood pressure is not in itself a disease, but rather the symptom of a disease. It is just one of Nature's warnings that certain organs in your body are not working properly. Experience has proven that Chiropactor is able to adjust the cause of high blood pressure and restore it to normal. Perhaps you have tried many other systems. There is no criterion on the ability of your Chiropactor to relieve your trouble. There is, perhaps, no condition with which we are more universally successful than that of high blood pressure, and this is true because we get down to the very fundamental cause of the condition. A spinal analysis will reveal the cause in your particular case.
