

KALINOWSKI TRIAL WILL OPEN MONDAY

EXTRA DEPUTIES ARE ENGAGED TO HANDLE EXPECTED THROGS.

Everything is in readiness for the trial of Alexander Kalinowski, Auburn Prison convict indicted to an extraordinary term of Supreme Court called by Governor Alfred E. Smith for the crime of murder in the first degree, the slaying of Principal Keeper James B. Durnin at Auburn Prison on the afternoon of November 17, 1927. The trial will start Monday morning.

The regular panel of jurors drawn to serve at the January Trial term of Supreme Court and a special panel of 125 drawn last week, will report Monday and from this number it is expected that the 12 men who will pass on the fate of Kalinowski will be selected.

District Attorney Benn Kenyon and his staff are all prepared to start the prosecution and Kalinowski will be defended by Attorney Charles T. Whelan, assigned by Supreme Court Justice J. B. M. Stephens of Rochester, who resided at the extraordinary term of Supreme Court last month. Mr. Whelan declines to comment on his complete defense for Kalinowski.

The trial of the case is expected to last about four days. The witnesses for the prosecution will be mostly prison guards, officials and physicians.

It is not expected that insanity will be interposed as a defense, as the law requires the service of notice for that defense on the district attorney before the trial and no such notice has been served on District Attorney Kenyon up to this afternoon.

Sheriff Earl J. Morgan will have an extra force of deputies on hand to handle the crowds, which may be attracted to the unusual features of a trial for murder in the first degree.

ST. MARY'S CHOR HOLDS ITS ANNUAL REUNION AND PARTY

Lycium Hall, Thursday evening was the scene of the annual reunion and party of the choir members of St. Mary's Church. The hall was prettily decorated with palms and ferns and everything was arranged in keeping with the festive spirit of the guests. An excellent course dinner was served to about 30 guests and during the meal everyone joined in the singing of favorite songs.

Afterwards there was an informal concert, in which different members of the choir entertained with song selections. In a few appropriate remarks the pastor, Father McGrath thanked the choir for their services during the year, also expressing the regret of all at the departure of Father O'Beirne from the parish.

Held As Abdutor.

New York, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Henry J. Sousa, 24 years old, was under arrest today charged with abducting the wife of another man from Bellevue Hospital.

Mrs. Anna Ropian, 28, of Cliffwood, N. J., the woman he is accused of abducting, has been missing since she left the hospital Thursday night in Sousa's company. Sousa admitted to police that he took the woman from the hospital but said he placed her on a subway train on her way home. The husband notified that his wife was ready for discharge, called for her an hour after her departure.

On Sunday evenings, in the First Baptist Church, the pastor, Rev. George M. Reid will review Rev. Dick Sheppard's book, "The Impatience of a Parson, which has caused much comment throughout Great Britain. The author tells frankly why he is impatient with the churches, and says many plain, even painful, things. This book is doubly interesting because it has not yet been published in this country.

While there will be no open discussion of the book Sunday evening, Mr. Reid would greatly like at any time after the service to have any reaction that those attending might like to contribute, either in person or by letter.

A week from Sunday, Mrs. Burton, the mother of the assistant pastor of the church, will speak. Mrs. Burton is an outstanding woman in the city of Rochester, and her lectures in women's clubs in Rochester, Syracuse and other cities are always looked forward to with keen interest.

At the 10:30 service tomorrow morning, Mr. Reid will discuss the question, "Why did Jesus say, 'I thank God that these things were hidden from the wise and prudent?'"

The Bible School will convene at 11:45. At 6:30 the young people will meet with Mr. Burton in charge. The following is the musical program:

Professor Ogle advised adding corn meal to the laying mash, provided them birds are in good flesh.

At all the meetings held this week, Agent Messer spoke on farm inventories, and all the farmers who attended were greatly interested.

On Monday, Wednesday and Friday of this week, at the Cato High School an extension school was conducted for out-of-school farm boys and others interested. ## NEW YORK TELEPHONE CO. BUYS ITS INSTRUMENTS

In a statement issued today by J. S. McCulloch, president of the New York Telephone Company regarding the purchase of telephone instruments by that company, he said: "In the early days of the telephone business, it seemed essential that telephone instruments be owned and maintained by a central organization. This condition no longer obtains. Therefore, effective at the end of 1927, the American Telephone & Telegraph Company offered to sell, and the New York Telephone Company bought the telephone instruments in use on its lines but heretofore owned and maintained by the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. At the same time a reduction from 4 per cent to 2 per cent of gross operating revenues was made in the charge for research, engineering, financial and other services furnished the New York Company by the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. While the purchase of the telephone instruments and their maintenance by this company will increase this company's investment and expense, it will be more than offset by the 50 per cent reduction in the charge for service rendered to the New York Telephone Company by the American Telephone & Telegraph Company."

UNI T. R. J. WHITE DIES AT AGE OF 86

Former Eighth Ward Alderman and Civil War Veteran Succumbs.

Capt. Henry J. White, Civil War the old Auburn Wringer Company and former Republican alderman of the Eighth Ward, passed away peacefully at his home, 110 Wall Street at 1:30 o'clock this morning, after a slight stroke, which he suffered last June. He was 86 years of age.

The well known Civil War veteran captain of the famous first Rhode Island Volunteer Heavy Artillery, Province of Nova Scotia. He moved to Providence, Rhode Island, and was detailed in 1872, to come to Auburn and found the Wringer Works here. He was big in stature, weighing about 240 pounds, with not an ounce of superfluous weight on his person and was of an active nature. His pleasing personality and his natural friendliness won him innumerable friends and admirers.

It had been the custom, for a number of years prior to his 80th birthday, to hold a birthday party at his home, to which all his friends and relatives were invited. The last party, held on his 80th birthday, he said would be his last.

Enlisting in the Union Army in 1861, Captain White won distinction and honor for his battery in many battles of the war for the Union. Wounds which he received in some of the battles, left scars which he carries to his grave. Until his retirement a few years ago, he was active in the business life of Auburn. He was a member of the Seward-Crocker Post, a Mason and a member of the Auburn Lodge of Elks.

He is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Claude Butler of Auburn, Mrs. John A. Burns of Brooklyn and Mrs. Albert J. Varley of Washington, D. C.; two sons, William J. White of Syracuse and James L. White of Auburn; one sister, Mrs. Malcolm Murchinson of Malden, Mass.

Funeral services will be held from the home at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with rites by the G. A. R. Burial will be in Fort Hill Cemetery.
